British Drive Poles Out Of Rosenberg

OPELUN, June 9.—Five thousand Polish insurgents have been driven out of the city of Rosenberg, northeast of this city, by British forces, and last night the Poles were reported to be retreating in a southeasterly direction. The Poles made a show of resistance, but the British did not fire a shot in taking possession of Rosenberg.

When the British marched into the city they found a Polish commander with 300 men. The commander was directed to leave the city within an hour and to evacuate the district before Wednesday night. The Pole said this was impossible and he was warned that every insurgent found in Rosenberg at the expiration of an hour would be held for examination. A search of the city later in the evening showed that all the insurgents had departed on time.

The people of Rosenberg gave the British an ovation, girls trying to kiss the soldiers and old women weeping as the British marched through the streets. There was no attempt on the part of the British to disarm the Poles, a British colonel saying: "We are trying to avoid a civil war and are attempting to re-establish allied authority without bloodshed."

Belief is expressed here that the British will promptly proceed southward and occupy Lublinitz. It is expected they will immediately take charge of cities in the industrial districts of Upper Silesia.

Fought To Death On High Girder

AKRON, O., June 9.—A fight on top of the new North Hill viaduct ended fatally this morning, when J. P. Magee, construction engineer, was knocked from a concrete girder to the ground, 200 feet below. Otis, Circe, 21, of Difficult, Tennessee, a workman on the job, is being held by police. The fight started when Circe objected to orders given by Magee, police say. Other workmen stood by powerless to interfere as the fighters swayed back and forth on the girder.

State Winds Up Evidence In Decker Trial

WARSAW, IND., June 9.—The concluding witnesses for the state were being placed on the stand here today in the case of Virgil Decker, charged with the murder of his chum, Leroy Lovett. The opening statement of attorneys for the defense and introduction of testimony by about 25 witnesses will follow immediately.

The feature of testimony late yesterday was the introduction of alleged confessions made by Decker and the description by witnesses of what was believed to have been the evidences of a death struggle in the cottage on the Tippecanoe river, where it is charged Lovett was lured to death. A sensation also was caused outside the courtroom late in the day when a report was verified that during a court rest last Saturday Virgil Decker had confessed to Carrie Eggleston, of Elkhart, Ind., that he "knew who murdered Lovett, but was afraid to tell." Attention for the state confirmed the report but stated they would make no attempt to use the statement.

GERMANS GIVE EXCUSES FOR ATTACK ON FRENCH TROOPS IN SILESIA

PARIS, June 9.—Dr. Mayer, the German ambassador here, called at the foreign office this morning and presented the excuses of the German government for an attack upon the French troops in Silesia yesterday by the forces of General Von Hoerster, head of the German forces in the district. Dr. Mayer said the attack was an error, the French having been mistaken for Polish insurgents.

Hughes Wants Other Nations To Wait Until U. S. Has Recognized Mexican Regime

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

(Copyright, 1921, by Times Pub. Co.)

WASHINGTON, June 8.—The United States Government expects the other governments of the world to stand by and withhold recognition of General Obregon until after Mexico shall have made a treaty of amity and commerce wherein specific assurances are given that the Mexican Constitution does not confiscate property held by foreigners prior to the adoption of that document in 1917.

Expect Other Nations to Wait.

The principle of protection of titles to property is held to be so fundamental by Secretary Hughes, not merely to American citizens but to the nationals of other countries, that the tradition of Europe on waiting on America before recognizing a government in Mexico is fully expected to be maintained.

The other governments of the world are aware by this time of the formal communication given to the press by Secretary Hughes outlining the status of the negotiations between the United States and Mexico and there is no apprehension here that any European government will recognize General Obregon until after America has taken such a step. In other words, Mexico finds the civilized world watching to see if she will make a treaty covering the question of vested rights. Failing in that all financial and commercial transactions with the Mexican Government would stand in jeopardy because if the world submitted without protest once to the right of a country to pass retroactive laws confiscating property without compensation, no title would be secure.

Wants Property Protected. Secretary Hughes has not only made America's case a matter of fundamental principle and not a question of the personality of strength of the present (Continued on Page Eight)

Beginning in the afternoon, June 28, and continuing four half days, an institute for the daily vacation Bible School leaders will be held, conducted by Rev. P. L. Vernon, Miss May Cowles and Dr. Ernest Irving Autrum, of Van Wert, will lead in the week day instruction.

Taking Of Testimony Under Way

TOLEDO, O., June 9.—With the taking of testimony well under way in the trial of the 18 suspects in the Toledo $1,000,000 post office robbery, the case should proceed rapidly and be finished well inside of three weeks. Special Prosecutor Tiffin announced when court opened this morning.

TWO OTHER LEGION OFFICERS INJURED IN INDIANAPOLIS

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., June 9.—F. W. Galbraith, Jr., national commander of the American Legion, was killed and Henry J. Ryan, of Indianapolis, national director of the legion's Americanism commission, and Milton J. Foreman, of Chicago, national committee-man of the legion from Illinois, were injured when an automobile in which they were riding went over a steep embankment here early this morning.

The three men were returning to the city from the Country Club in Mr. Ryan's car. The car failed to make a slight turn in the road and ran over the curb, across the sidewalk, and turned over several times, landing at the foot of a twenty foot embankment. All three men were thrown clear of the car as it went down.

Mr. Galbraith suffered a fracture of the skull in the fall and died on the way to the hospital.

Mr. Ryan, who was driving the car, declared he believed a defect in the steering apparatus caused him to lose control of the machine.

Foreman, who is national committee-man for the state of Illinois, and chairman of the national finance committee, suffered a fracture of the skull and injuries to his back and shoulders. He is in a serious condition at the city hospital.

Ryan is chairman of the Americanism committee of the legion. He was badly bruised and lacerated, but his injuries are not serious, physicians say. Ryan's home was formerly in Boston. He was driving the machine, said he had been driving rapidly from the Indianapolis Country Club, north of the city, in order to reach the Union Station in time for Galbraith and Foreman to board a train for Chicago.

He reduced his speed to about twenty miles an hour, he said, just before reaching the point where the accident occurred. Failing to make the turn, the car plunged over the embankment, turned a somersault and landed on its side. All of the occupants were thrown clear of the car, except Ryan, whose left foot was caught beneath the machine, but he was able to extricate himself with difficulty.

Hospital attaches said that since the accident Ryan has been hysterical.

Mr. Galbraith's body will be removed to Cincinnati for burial, as soon as arrangements can be completed.

Coroner Paul J. Robinson, who made an investigation immediately after the accident, said an examination of the wrecked machine showed a broken connection of the steering wheel.

The three men were driving in to the Union Station here from the Country Club, according to Mr. Ryan, where Mr. Galbraith, accompanied by Mr. Foreman and William Q. Settle, adjutant of the department of Illinois of the American Legion, were to have caught an early morning train for Chicago.

F. W. GALBRAITH

Mr. Settle and Mr. Foreman were returning there after attending a meeting of the national finance committee of the American Legion here, while Mr. Galbraith intended stopping there preliminary to starting on a speaking tour in behalf of legislation before congress, sponsored by the American Legion.

He was elected national commander of the legion at the national convention held last September at Cleveland, succeeding Franklin D'Olier, of Philadelphia. He was 47 years old. He was born in Watertown Arsenal, Mass. During the world war, Mr. Galbraith served as colonel of the 147th Infantry and won the distinguished service medal, the croix de guerre and the croix de guerre with palm of heroism in the Meuse-Argonne offensive, in which he was wounded. Mr. Galbraith was elected department commander at the first state convention of the legion held in Ohio.

An election probably will be held here early next week to name Mr. Galbraith's successor. It was announced at national headquarters today. The new commander will be named by the legion's national executive committee. This committee is composed of one representative of the organization from each of the states and territorial departments.

The national vice commanders, one of whom probably will be elected national commander, are John G. Emery, Grand Rapids, Mich.; Thomas Goding, Newark, N. J.; Claudius G. Pennington, Racine, Wis.; J. G. Scruggs, Carson City, Nevada; and Jackson Winslett, Birmingham, Ala.

Coroner Paul J. Robinson, who has made an investigation preliminary to a formal inquest, said it seemed probable that a broken or a locked steering knuckle caused the accident.

L. R. Gignall, commander of the Indiana department of the legion, ordered all posts to fly their flags at half mast for a period of 30 days in memory of Commander Galbraith.

Her bow was stove in and the steamship Columbia is proceeding to her assistance.

SIMS WILL STAND BY EVERY WORD OF SPEECH

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 9.—Investigation of the recent speech in London, by Rear Admiral William S. Sims, touching on Irish sympathizers in this country, was ordered by the senate today without a record vote. The resolution was offered by Senator Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi.

LONDON, June 9.—Rear Admiral William S. Sims, U. S. N., is quoted by the Press Association today as saying this morning with regard to the speech he delivered on the Irish question here Tuesday: "I stand by all I said, every word of it. I don't repudiate a single word I said and I see nothing un-American in it, even if Senator McCormick does."

Admiral Sims, who this morning said he had not received the cablegram reported to have been sent him by Secretary of the Navy Denby, inquiring if the admiral was correctly quoted in the press reports of his speech, has arranged the cable message delivered to him as soon as it reaches London.

Speaking at a luncheon given by the English Speaking Union at London on Tuesday, Admiral Sims was reported to have made a bitter attack upon Irish sympathizers in America. He was said to have declared: "They are like zebras—either black horses with white stripes or white horses with black stripes. But we know they are not horses—they are asses. Each of these asses, however, has a vote and there are lots of them."

He declared that the persons he assailed were Americans "when they want money, but Sinn Feiners when on the platform," and added, "They are making war on America today," according to cabled versions of the admiral's remarks.

Senate Votes For Army Of 150,000 Men

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 9.—The army appropriation bill, carrying $241,000,000 and providing for a minimum of 150,000 men, as passed by the senate, was ready to go to conference today. The house draft of the measure carried about $14,000,000 less and provided for an average army strength of 150,000 during the next fiscal year.

Before passing the bill late yesterday the senate rejected a committee amendment which fixed the army strength at 170,000. In so doing it reversed its action of Tuesday on the same amendment.

An eleven-hour attack by economy advocates in the senate resulted in the reduction of 20,000 men from the potential army strength for the next fiscal year. Thirteen Republicans voted with 23 Democrats for the reduction.

With the army bill before a conference committee, packer control legislation was expected to be taken up in the senate today. After the packer bill is disposed of the Frelinghuysen bill to establish seasonal coal rates and to compel publicity of coal statistics are to be pressed, according to formal notice given by Senator Frelinghuysen, Republican, New Jersey.

The Sweet bill in consolidation of governmental agencies dealing with soldier relief, was expected to be debated again by the house today.

Hershey To Be Returned To Pen

COLEMBUS, O., June 9.—John Hershey, who escaped from the Ohio penitentiary about a year ago, will be returned to the institution today, following his capture at Wheeling, W. Va., yesterday. He was serving a term for robbery. When captured Hershey was working as a coal mine foreman.

ONLY WOMAN GRAND JURY FOREMAN IN WORLD, IS CLAIM

Mrs. Cora M. Cross.

Mrs. Cora M. Cross, a sweet-faced, motherly-looking woman, has the distinction of being the world's only woman foreman of a grand jury. Before she was foreman she was the only woman member of the grand jury of Cuyahoga county, Ohio, for one entire term.

She is now foreman and there are three other women members on the jury. Everything in the criminal line passes through her hands.

ARREST MAN WITH CAP IN MURDER MYSTERY

CLEVELAND, O., June 9.—Arrest of the "man with the cap," a foreigner, last night, and an all night search for another foreigner, whom the police expect to arrest today, alleged to have assisted in the stabbing to death of Daniel P. Kaber, wealthy publisher, in his Lakewood home nearly two years ago, brought a declaration today from Mrs. Mary Brickel, 69, that early in January, last, she and a woman friend received threatening blackhand letters.

Mrs. Brickel, mother of Mrs. Beza Catherine Kaber, widow of the murdered publisher, is in jail charged with first degree murder for complicity in the Kaber killing. Mrs. Kaber and her daughter, Marian McArde, are held in New York on first degree murder charges in the case.

In her statement to police at the time of her arrest, Mrs. Brickel declared she believed the actual murder was done by foreigners, but at that time made no mention of the blackhand letters. She said she could describe no reason for the letters since they contained no request for money. Mrs. Brickel disclaimed all knowledge of the "man with the cap," and a woman arrested in Sandusky early yesterday morning and said she did not know whether Mrs. Kaber was acquainted with them. The man has a criminal record. Both prisoners are to be questioned today.

TOLEDO, O., June 9.—James Edward Kelley, 48, of Oklahoma, was killed by police at 11 o'clock this morning, following a battle which lasted two hours and in which machine guns and hand grenades had been used to dislodge him from his barricaded house at 611 Walnut street.

Before he was killed Kelley shot and killed Patrolmen Harry Dowell and Harold Mossbrugger, who had been called to the house to subdue him after he had refused to pay a board bill and had flourished a revolver and threatened his landlady, Mrs. Nelly Key, and her son Allen.

The roof of the house was partially shot away by machine guns and hundreds of shots were exchanged between the officers and the solitary gunman before he was finally killed. Two machine guns were sent from central police station and high pressure fire hose was used in an effort to cave in the walls of the house. Sulphur candles were lighted in the dwelling and other chemicals dropped into the attic through a skylight in an effort to smoke the fugitive out.

Patrolman Mossbrugger displayed the most amazing courage when he went to apprehend Kelley. He mounted to the roof of a three-story brick building, crossed its top under fire, swung his legs over a trap door for a five foot drop to the floor of the attic and was killed by Kelley on the instant his feet touched the floor. The body of Patrolman Dowell lay on the sidewalk in front of the house, where he fell when a bullet reached him, for two hours, policemen being unable to get the body away because of the intense fire of the barricaded man.

FIRE CHIEFS ENTERTAINED

YOUNGSTOWN, O., June 9.—Election of officers was the main business at today's session of the Fire Chiefs' Club of Ohio, in session here.

Exhibitions of fire fighting methods, a ball game between Akron and Youngstown firemen, and a banquet occupied the attention of the 150 delegates yesterday afternoon. Youngstown won the ball game 7 to 1.

Chief George Wallace, of Cleveland, entertained the banqueters last night with reminiscences of his 52 years as a fire fighter. State Fire Marshal H. A. Dykeman, extended greetings from his department and promised co-operation.

ST. MARY'S ENTERTAINMENT BRILLIANT SUCCESS

One of the most interesting musical programs given in this city was that which formed a part of the St. Mary's high school commencement exercises of last night, held in the Portsmouth high school auditorium, when five graduates—three young men and two young women—received diplomas for completing the first four year course of St. Mary's school.

The large auditorium was well filled with relatives and many friends of the graduates and school. All present voiced their approval of the different numbers on the program by their rounds of hearty applause. The teachers in charge and the young people taking part are to be highly complimented on the success of the program, which was carried out in detail without the slightest hitch. The manner in which each person took his part on the program indicated hours of careful and patient study and able instruction on the part of the teachers. The complete program was thoroughly enjoyed by everyone present; the address by Father C. J. Backlage of Ashland being delivered in such a manner that any audience would have listened to with intent interest.

The Graduates
The five graduates this year, Albert A. Sommer, Charles Joseph Snyder, Anna Clara Goodman, John Julian Snyder and Helen Aurelia Schaefer, are the first to graduate from the four year course, and the school has a right to be justly proud of the class. Albert A. Sommer is a graduate from the classical course and the other four are from the Latin-Scientific course.

The stage was beautifully decorated with cut flowers and potted plants, the class colors, red and white, being carried out in the color scheme of flowers.

The opening numbers on the program were well played selections by the school orchestra, composed of:
Violins—Lawrence Schuler, Phoebe Dickel, Richard Haag, Joseph Schaefer, Joseph Franz, Julian Snyder, Mandolins—Vincent Orlett, Charlotte Schaefer, Anna Glockner, Jane Snyder, Ralph Ross, Violoncello—Laud Schmidt, Charles Snyder, Double Bass—Mary Franz, Cornet—Charles Hurlb, Piano—Marie Baum, Victor Labeiz.

The opening orchestral selections were followed by a piano quartet "Toreador's Song," by Esther Eckfeld, Evangeline Justice, Dolores Maier, and Mary Martha McMahon. A piano duo "Tumultuoso," by Louise Glockner and Margaret Vetter and another piano quartet "Elegance," by Margaret Schunk, Elizabeth Orlett, Dorothy Haag, and Marie Baum, were also given. All piano selections given showed the benefits of long practice and careful instruction and the beautiful renditions were received with applause by the audience.

All On Program
The three young men having essays which were delivered in a manner that won them much credit. The first essay, "Democracy Today," was by Albert Sommer and in part he said: "Our democracy is a fortunate accident of history for when the mob of '76 went forward to battle they did not go forth to elect a president, but were fighting for only freedom. Democracy is a gift of God. The spirit of equality in our democracy is not to be found elsewhere in the world. Woman's suffrage is but another step in democracy. In speaking of the liberty in this country the student said that the legislature is in their hurry to enact new legislation. He said, 'Monarchies place their trust in the sword and gun, while the Republics place their trust in their citizenship.'"

"Influence of the Press" was the subject of the essay of Charles Joseph Snyder. He said that all matters of public consequence could be traced to the public press. He divided the press into three classes—newspapers, pamphlets and magazines. He spoke of the great news agencies that have the scope of the world and the pen of an editor and that while newspapers give the vital facts the latter two classes, pamphlets and magazines, amplify, go deeper into the subjects. He spoke of the great news agencies that make it a business to get all the big news of the world and prepare it for publication. He classified the newspapers as an inspiration in education and in the uplift of human life. He said that while God sent only good things, a lot of good things were made evil by evil men. He told the audience that the same applied to the public press. He said that evil men would purchase a newspaper and wield an influence for evil through its columns. He dwelt briefly on the evils of a newspaper, degrading the sensational stories of robberies and murders that were published inasmuch as they incited the spirit of similar actions into irresponsible young people. But the amount of good in a newspaper, he continued, heavily overbalances the amount of evil. He concluded with a plea for the absolute freedom of the public press.

Splendid Reader
The next number on the program was a reading "Magnificat" by Miss Anna Goodman. It was presented in such a way that it could not help but be interesting to all. The young woman is to be congratulated upon the mastering of the long and difficult reading.
Julian Snyder had for his essay subject "Bolshevism in Our Schools." He said in part "Bolshevism is the most extreme form of vandalism. It is the work of satan whose work can be traced all down through the ages. Bolshevism use the direct and indirect methods to gain their ends. The direct method is that practiced by the social and crafty political plotters who are more secret in their spread of the Bolshevik propaganda. Bolshevism treat all human laws as tramps and impositions. This insane anarchy is claimed to be more destructive than the great World War. Bolshevism is being spread in more ways than one. One of these ways is through the schools where there are hundreds of disloyal teachers sowing the seeds of Bolshevism. It will not do a particle of good to deport and to drive with the street corner speaker while the younger generation in the schools of our land. The younger generation is showing more and more the spirit of the Bolshevik. The time has come when they regard home merely as a place to eat and sleep and to visit once in a while, while they spend most of their time in the pool room and on the street curb. It is said that new ideals are needed. Such is not the case, new ideals are not what we need, for all we need is to go back to the ideals of our fathers."

The Class Prophecy
Miss Helen Schaefer had the class prophecy which was arranged in a most interesting way and in which she could see brilliant futures for all the class members.
According to the class prophecy the class is destined to become represented in the world by a journalist, lawyer, physician, sister of mercy and a Government Indian agent.

Father T. A. Goebel then introduced the speaker of the evening Father Backlage of Ashland, Ky. His clever remarks at the start of his address placed the audience in the best of humor and they were patient throughout in listening to his well chosen statements on educational systems. He punctuated his address with witty stories that kept his audience with him all the way through.

What Is Education?
On his subject the speaker said in part:
"What is education? It is a drawing out and development of the powers and faculties of man, a culture of those inherent faculties which God gave, to educate man as man. One may reach the highest standard of physical and moral development but education is not then complete. One has been neglected spiritually. Man is not only composed of mind and body but of a soul as well and man must not only be educated for the present but for the future as well."

He must not only be educated for his present wants but for his eternal wants. An education without God is an education for only material things. In the class room where one's eternity may depend, the name of God cannot be mentioned.

There are three classes of education. First, non-sectarian. Second, denominational and third, Catholic. In the first class the word of God is forbidden in the classroom. The second class of education will not do for all because it does not teach completely. God says 'Learn Of Me.' The boys and girls of the present time are the men and women of the future and they have a heart and soul that must be educated. What gaineth a man if he wins the world and loses his mortality?"

"Knowledge is intended to be a blessing but an education without God is a curse, instead of a blessing. To whom would a parent trust his child. To him who would continue the teachings and lessons learned at the mother's knee or to him who would question these instructions?"

"We will continue our schools, and God willing, we will cling to them to the end. We believe it is the work of charity, of humanity of God."

The speaker then congratulated the graduates on reaching the goal toward which they had been striving and wished them all kinds of success in whatever line of adventure they would select.

"To be real happy, contented in life, keep in mind, the word, duty to your fellowman and God."

City Without Water Supply Until Break In Main Repaired

From 11:30 last night till 2:30 this afternoon Portsmouth was without its normal supply of water due to a break in the main on the Damarin Hill in East Portsmouth. The city waterworks crew under the direction of Service Director Gergens and Engineer George P. Shute were soon on the scene after receiving news of the break and worked diligently to repair the serious break as speedily as possible.

At 2:30 this afternoon it was stated that repairs were completed and that the water had been turned on. In a short time the city's normal supply of water was again flowing through the mains and there was great rejoicing in all sections of the city.

It was necessary to recant the "elbow joint," which was shored apart by the water pressure. An case of fire today Safety Director St. Straus said a supply of water in the downtown business section would be available from the Selby shoe plant, and should fires break out in other sections the pumps would be stationed at the river as the fire companies have sufficient hose for an emergency move of this character.

When the break came last night thousands of gallons of water rushed down the Damarin Hill and flowed towards Mahert Road. Residents in that section thought a miniature flood had broken loose and were somewhat alarmed until they learned that the rush of water was due to a break in the water main on Damarin Hill.

Many inquiries were made today as to why the old main was not pressed into service and its normal supply of water continued. This was explained by the fact that the main had never been connected and was not in shape for use.

Where the break occurred is where the new line cut into the old line on the left hand side of the street car tracks going east on Gullia street. Several sections have been moved from the old line and this is the reason why it could not be pressed into service today.

At the service department's office it was stated this afternoon that the old line was not connected on account of no definite plan having been adopted for its connection.

Service Director Gergens stated that there was talk of swinging the line around Damarin hill while others wanted to go straight down through the shale. He says until this was decided the old line remain unconnected.

MADDOCK PROPERTY IN NEW HANDS; DEAL MEANS ERECTION OF 22 HOUSES

Through a deal closed Thursday, the Wertz Realty company acquired the Maddock property, which lies east of the first alley east of Officers' street and between Third and Fourth, and running to Jackson Avenue. The consideration was $24,000.

The valuable tract of ground will provide for 22 building lots, 40 by 120 and the new owners will erect six and seven room houses on the lots, ten to be built on the Fourth street strip of ground at once.

Arrangements are being made to have Third and Fourth streets. "The location is an ideal one, and we will build only first-class houses," Mr. Wertz said Thursday. Associated with him in the deal are Henry Kelso and R. C. Spangler.

The property was owned by the late Maria Maddock. Incorporated in the deed to the new owners is the provision that if any money or valuables are found in the Maddock homestead which is to be razed; they will revert to the Maddock heirs. The late Mrs. Maddock had a penchant for hiding her valuables in every nook and corner in her home.

Conceals Self In Store; Captures Thief

Failure to closely guard their plans for the breaking into the J. T. Lawson hardware store at Greenup last night resulted in the capture of one of Greenup's well known young men on a charge of burglary and the implication of two other Greenup young men who are being sought by county officers there.

Wednesday Biggs Lawson, son of J. T. Lawson owner of the hardware store, was tipped off that the store was to be robbed last night, and he hid underneath the counter near the cash register.

About midnight the cover of the hole that leads to the roof was lifted and a man entered and made his way to the cash register. Biggs Lawson then came from underneath the counter, turned on his flashlight and covered the robber with a gun and marched him to the village and county jail.

Doyle Worthington, 19, one of the well known young men of the village, was the name the man captured gave the officers. It is claimed that he confessed and implicated Bummer Wellman, 19, and Granville Green, 17, the latter being a colored lad. According to the officers, Worthington says the other two were on guard outside the store when he entered.

Worthington reached the roof of the hardware store by climbing a tree and crawling out on a limb.

Wellman is a brother of a garage owner in Greenup. The Green boy is a native of Greenup.

According to the story told by Worthington, the trio first attempted to enter Wm. Bros. general store, two squares west of the Lawson business place, but were frightened away from there.

This morning it was learned that two C. & O. box cars on the siding at Greenup and Riverton, a mile east of Greenup, had been entered. Worthington claims that the trio did not know anything about the box car robbery.

New Low On Sugar

Judge Purdum Candidate For Mayor

That Judge J. P. Purdum will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for mayor became a certainty Thursday afternoon when he filed a declaration of his intention to make the race, with the board of elections, which insures the appearance of his name on the ballot at the August primaries.

Judge Purdum is one of the best known lawyers at the local bar and his years of legal training make him well fitted to hold the office to which he aspires and while reluctant to seek office he hearkened to the insistent demands of his wide circle of friends who have promised their support. He is a life-long Republican and has lived in this city for more than half a century. His supporters claim he will easily win the nomination and that he will bow over the opposition in the battle of ballots to be fought in November.

There is no discounting the strength of Judge Purdum as he has a big following and which makes him a most formidable candidate.

A birthday surprise party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Wedbrook, North Moreland Addition, last evening, brought together a number of friends for the evening, at the conclusion of which refreshments were served to Mrs. John Burchett, Mrs. C. F. Strong, Mrs. C. L. Louis and two daughters, Mrs. William Albrecht, Mrs. James Stout and sons, Jack and Roy, Mrs. Bertha Sparks, Mrs. George Nagel, Mrs. John Davis, Mrs. Victor Graham, Mrs. May Albrecht, Mrs. Mattie Faltz and two daughters, Mrs. W. L. Albrecht, Misses Alma Rhoden, Ida Burchett and Martha Jane Graham.

Earl Minch, son of Mr. Val Minch of Eighth street, has returned from Miami Military Institute at Germantown, for the summer vacation. He was accompanied home by his father and cousins, Mr. Minch, Misses Stella Koger and Carrie Hermann.

The Woman's Athletic Committee of the Leisure Time Program will meet Friday evening at 8 o'clock, in the Bureau of Community Service rooms in the First National Bank building.

Mrs. Henry T. Bannon will go to Cincinnati Friday to meet Mr. Bannon, who is returning from a big game hunting trip in Northern British Columbia.

Miss LaDora White of Fifth street will entertain this evening in honor of Miss Maud Smith, fiancée of Mr. Everett Ruth of Flint, Mich.

Miss Bess Cofer of Grant street entertained last evening in honor of Miss Bess McFarland, fiancée of Mr. Everett Armiger of Baltimore, Md. The guests numbered the members of the J. G. C. Club and a few other intimate friends who presented the honor-guest with lovely gifts, as well as a tea-service of silver. After a delightful evening, an ice-cream in green and white was served by the hostess.

Miss Edith Trumbert of Seventh street, has gone to Pittsburgh to spend the month of June with her sister, Mrs. George P. Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. King of Chillicothe street, left Monday for Florida, where they plan to locate. They will return in two weeks to make preparations for removing their household goods there.

Mrs. W. F. Boyer of Lincoln street, has returned from Columbus, where she purchased a home preparatory to moving there the first of September, to be with her children, Christine and Russell Rutger, who will attend Ohio State University.

SCHWABE AND HAMILTON FINED $1,000 EACH

The trials of Harold Schwabe, 2303 Grant street, and Bryan Hamilton, 1017 Third street, well known young steelworkers, which were held in Squire William McManes' court at New Boston, Wednesday night, on charges of violating the prohibition laws, resulted in the conviction of the accused, and the magistrate handed them fines of $1,000 each.

The two young men were taken into custody together with two young women last Sunday night on the Mann's Run divide, on statutory charges, and the liquor complaints came as a sequel to the finding of a flask partly filled with moonshine liquor in Schwabe's automobile by the arresting officers, it was claimed.

At the close of the hearing the two defendants were committed to the county jail in default of payment of the penalty imposed; and they were also ordered held until $800 bond for alleged immoral conduct with the two young women, who gave their names as Marilyn Penney and Anna Fleming, the latter claiming Sloman, Ky., as her home.

The Penney girl was present at the trial and declared she was unaware of any moonshine liquor having been in the machine and denied there was any improper conduct between the defendants and her companion or herself. The pleading girl failed to respond to a subpoena to appear at the hearing to testify. It is believed she has gone back to her home in Kentucky.

Miss Morgan Candidate For School Board

Miss Elizabeth Morgan of New Boston is the first Portsmouth woman to file a petition with the election board as a candidate at the August primaries. She is a Republican and is a candidate for school board in New Boston. She says she will wage an aggressive campaign and is confident of being returned a winner.

GRADUATION

Graduation is an epoch in the lives of young men and women. As they leave their schools or colleges equipped with scholastic training they should then prepare to acquire knowledge of those affairs which enable them successfully to grapple with the practical problems of life.

A gift of a Savings book will go far toward encouraging young men and women in acquiring this practical education. It will assist them in the fundamental principle of material success.

This institution welcomes Savings deposits in any amounts and we suggest an account at this time as a most appropriate graduation gift.

Will Form Another Military Organization

Portsmouth is soon to have another military organization, announcement of this city's choice for the headquarters of another military unit being made today by Captain Luther Thompson of Battery C, 135th field artillery, just recently organized. It is to be a combat train which will serve in connection with the 135th field artillery of Southern Ohio.

Captain Thompson, on a recent visit to the Adjutant General's department at Columbus, was asked if it would be possible to organize such a military unit here and his reply was in the affirmative.

Attorney Guy Blair, who was a commissioned officer in the World War, had considerable experience with this kind of work in the World War. He has been designated as the man to have charge of the organization of the combat train.

The normal strength of such a train is 50 men and this number is needed before the unit can be mustered in. Then the enlistment may be increased to as high as 65. There are now about 45 names of proposed members in the hands of those in charge of the new work. Anyone interested should see or call Attorney Guy Blair, Phone 639, or Attorney Luther Thompson, Phone 281.

Enlistment will begin as soon as the

93 Water Meters Installed

Since the first of this year 93 water meters have been installed in Portsmouth. Many of these consumers have been forced to install meters by the Water Works. Only three consumers have resisted orders to install meters and notices have been served on them to discontinue the use of city water.

In almost every case where a meter is installed the consumer pays less by meter than he did by flat rate.

at 25c per thousand gallons. One of our largest water wastes has been cellar syphons, and automatic pumps. We know of cases in private homes where such pumps if on meter would have cost the property owner at least $300 per year. In proper order such pumps do not require much water, but out of order, they are very wasteful. All service to such pumps has been ordered to be by meter only, and the use of such cellar pumps without meter is forbidden, and punishable by fine under the City Ordinance for illicit use of City Water.

The installation of the above meters has materially conserved our supply of water, and has averted an actual water famine. All large consumers are now paying by meter, and forty of these consumers use and pay for one-third of the water pumped.

To Argue Cas Cases

Hon. A. R. Johnson, A. R. Johnson, Jr., Hon. L. L. Andrews and J. L. Anderson will go to Columbus today to argue before the supreme court the suits against the United Fuel Gas Company arising from the gas explosion in 1917, in the auditorium of the St. Lawrence School building—Iron-tonian.

Twenty-four Years Ago

John W. Koerner was instantly killed by a bolt of lightning while he was standing under a tree on Robinson avenue, near Clay street, where he sought shelter from a storm. Two young men named Haug, who were with him, were badly shocked. Koerner was about 20 years old and lived on Seventh street.

Jacob Dender, Jr., succeeded Charles Briggs as night watchman at the N. & W. depot.

Dr. W. D. Tremper returned from a five weeks' trip to California. He traveled all over the golden state and had a very enjoyable vacation.

An excursion was conducted on the steamer M. P. Wells to Vancoulog under the auspices of the clerks. The Home Circle orchestra furnished the music.

"Billy" Barber's minstrels gave a performance under a big tent at the Harrisonville picnic.

Miss Flo Schleiter, a graduate of the River City Business College, accepted the position as stenographer and bookkeeper at the Ohio Store company.

E. C. Dover, of The Times staff, left for Cleveland to enter the office of Major Charles Dick, secretary of the Republican committee. He was succeeded on The Times staff by Charles A. Goddard, Jr.

The River City Band discoursed music during the big race meet at the driving park under the auspices of the Portsmouth Trotting Association.

The C. P. & V. received a consignment of fifty new flat cars from the car shops at Jeffersonville, Ind. The new cars were fitted with automobile air-brakes.

A little son was born to Mr. and Mrs. George E. Krickner. Mrs. Krickner, arrived for a brief visit with relatives. He was recently appointed postmaster of that city.

Henry Wilkins, 39, and Lucinda Madden, 39, both of Portsmouth, obtained a license to wed.

The old Amos Seely residence above Franklin Farm was destroyed by fire. The house was one of the oldest in the French Grant.

Mike Reinhardt, an employee of Massa Bros., painters, fell from a scaffold, a sheer drop of 20 feet, and only sustained a sprained ankle.

The boys at M. B. Gilbert & company made it hot for Elbert McCoy when a young woman called at the store and left on the desk of the manager a package of love letters which Elbert had lost in some mysterious manner while out boat-riding.

When Arthur Coriell, guard of the stone-pile gang, counted noses, discovered that one of his prisoners had taken French leave.

Joy C. Wright, 24, and Lillian M. Seannos, 23, both of Portsmouth, were granted license to wed.

Saturday Pay Day

Saturday will be pay-day with employees of the Whitaker-Glessner company. All departments in the mill are working.

MY TIRED FEET
ACHED FOR "TIZ"

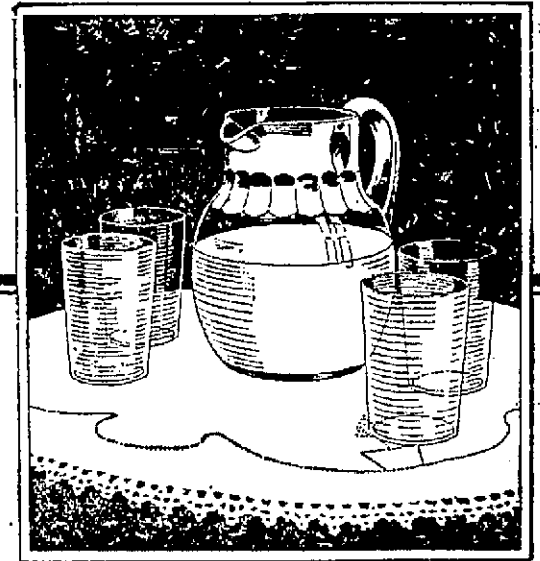

Let Your Sore, Swollen, Aching Feet Spread Out in a Bath of "Tiz."

Just take your shoes off and then put those weary, shoe-crinkled, aching feet of yours in a "Tiz" bath. Your toes will wriggle with joy; they'll look up at you and almost talk and then they'll take another dive in that "Tiz" bath.

When your feet feel like lumps of lead—all tired out—just try "Tiz." It's grand—it's glorious. Your feet will dance with joy; also you will find all pain gone from corns, callouses and bunions.

There's nothing like "Tiz." It's the only remedy that draws out all the poisonous excretions, which puff up your feet and cause foot torture.

Get a box of "Tiz" at any drug or department store—don't wait. Ah! how glad your feet feel; how comfortable your shoes feel. You can wear shoes a size smaller if you desire—advertisment.

POWDERED MILK

The Solution to Your Milk Problem

Theodore Doty Is Candidate For Mayor

Who has cast his hat in the ring for the nomination of mayor on the Republican ticket. He is one of the city's best known citizens, and his friends predict that he will make a great race for the mayoralty honors.

Theodore Doty, well known retired N. & W. official and one of the most prominent citizens of the city, is the latest entry for the Republican nomination for Mayor. At the urgent solicitation of friends in all sections of the city he "tossed his hat in the ring" Wednesday night when he announced his candidacy by declaring his intention to file his nominating petition before the time limit expires Friday midnight.

That Mr. Doty will be a formidable candidate is conceded, having gained a wide acquaintance and hundreds of friends throughout the city through his long railroad service here which is certain to result in strong support at the polls. His supporters are already predicting that Mr. Doty will be an easy winner in the primary and that he will be elected when the ballots are counted in November.

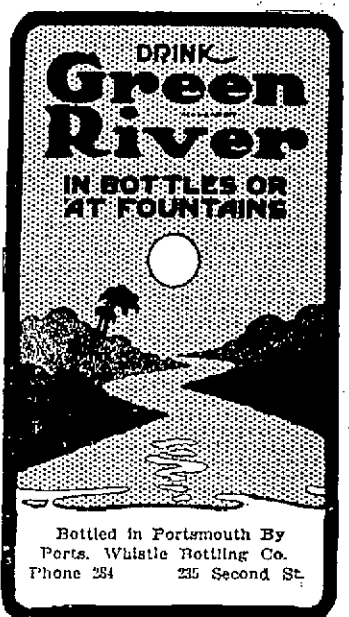

Mr. Doty is a life-long Republican and always took an active hand in party affairs until five years ago when he turned the work over to younger men but claims he has never deserted a call and will make a vigorous effort to redeem the city for the G. O. P.

He is a veteran of the civil war and saw much service with the 149th regiment O. V. I. in the conflict between the states and for 35 years he was in the service of the B. & O. and N. & W. railroads in the capacity of freight agent, being showered with honors and congratulations by officials, fellow-employees and friends on his retirement last January 1.

Mr. Doty is Past Eminent Commander of Calvary Commandery, Knights Templar, standing high as a Mason and a man.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

G. M.—Serve ice-cream, cake, coffee and nuts or candies, as it is the most convenient for that occasion. Send the announcements the evening of the wedding, so that they will reach the friends the day after.

New Boston, O.—My Dear Miss Wise—As I have heard and read of your wonderful help to people, I thought I would come to you for perhaps you can aid me.

I am 16 years old and in the sophomore year at High School. I want to take a business course next year, but my parents are striving to pay for a home and you see they haven't enough money to pay my way. They said perhaps if I could work and get half of the money they would pay the other half.

Now, Dolly, if you would let me know of anyone who would want a girl to take care of children, or anything that would bring $5.00 or more, I would be more than glad, for you do not know how badly I want a business course.

I am a good Christian girl. I do not think about boys. I love to work and love to care for children. I would gladly work in a restaurant or anything. Would you please let me see this in tomorrow night's Times, as I would like to get to work as soon as possible.

THANK YOU.

DARLING BABY BRIGHTENS HOME

Children's Laughter a Pleasing Sound

Altoona, Pa.—"I am writing to tell you what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. We had six children die almost at birth. From one hour to nine months I was in bed, and I was so weak and nervous. I suffered very little at childbirth, and I give all the credit to your medicine, and shall always recommend it highly."

Mrs. H. J. JANSSEN, Millston, Wis.

Mrs. Janssen's experience of interest to childless wives.

Millston, Wis.—"I want to give you a word of praise for your wonderful medicine. We are fond of children, and for a considerable time of life we were married I feared I would not have any. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it strengthened me, so I now have a nice, strong, healthy baby girl. I suffered very little at childbirth, and I give all the credit to your medicine, and shall always recommend it highly."

Mrs. H. J. JANSSEN, Millston, Wis.

Mrs. Held of Marinette, Wis., adds her testimonial for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She says:

Marinette, Wis.—"I was in a nervous condition and very irregular. My doctor advised an operation. My husband brought me one of your booklets and asked me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It overcame my weakness so that I now have a healthy baby girl after having been married nine years. I am glad to recommend your medicine, and you may use my letter as a testimonial."

Mrs. H. B. HELD, 330 Jefferson St., Marinette, Wis.

There are many, many such homes that were once childless, and are now blessed with healthy, happy children because Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored the mother to a strong and healthy condition, as it acts as a natural restorative for ailments as indicated by backache, irregularities, displacements, weakness and nervousness.

Women everywhere should remember that most of the commoner ailments of women are not the surprise ones—they are not caused by serious displacements or growths, although the symptoms may be the same, and that is why so many apparently serious ailments readily yield to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it acts as a natural restorative. It can be taken with perfect safety and often prevents serious troubles.

Therefore if you know of any woman who is suffering and has been unable to secure relief and is regretfully looking forward to a childless old age, ask her to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it has brought health and happiness into so many homes once darkened by illness and despair.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women" will be sent to you free upon request. Write to The Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts. This book contains valuable information.

Your Manners

IT IS CORRECT

To place the knife and fork side by side on the plate as a signal to the servant that it may be removed.

When drinking from a cup, to hold it directly over the saucer.

When sipping tea or coffee from a spoon, to bend the head over the cup.

When eating such food as peas, where the tines of the fork must be turned upwards, to use the right hand.

To ignore an accident that occurs at table whenever possible.

IT IS NOT CORRECT

To leave behind any souvenir or place card that the hostess has meant to be taken.

To assure a guest that there is "plenty more" food.

To rest the arm on the table and drink from a cup or glass.

To crumble bread at the table.

To hold the fork in one hand and load it with food with the knife in the other.

Meet me at Nye's Fountain.

To announce the engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Margaret Craigie to Mr. Robert E. Willis, Miss Thelma Kidd entertained a group of twenty-five intimate friends last evening in her home on Eleventh street. A profusion of pink roses and white snow-balls made effective decorations for the rooms. While Miss Ruby Humberlin, at the piano, played the wedding music, little Ruth Marie Willis, niece of Mr. Willis, attired as a bride, entered, carrying a tray with cards, bearing the names, Willis-Craigie, June 30, 1921, which she gave each guest. Mrs. Ernest Kidd, mother of the hostess, served ices in the form of wedding bells, to the guests.

Miss Craigie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Craigie of Lincoln street, and a young woman of charming attainments. She has been employed in the office of the Selby Shoe Co., and is a teacher in the First Christian Sunday School.

Mr. Willis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Willis of Lincoln street and is in business with the Selby Shoe Company.

The Clio Club members and a few guests spent Wednesday afternoon and evening very delightfully at the beautiful summer home of Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Young, situated on Turkey Creek. Mrs. Louise Bothwell Maclellan of Rockwood, Va., Miss Stella Wells of Washington, D. C., Mrs. O. S. Shutter, Mrs. John Herdell, Mrs. W. Seymour and Mrs. Melvin Guphill of Boston were guests. Plans were made for another outing in two weeks.

Charles Sommer of Fifth street is visiting friends in Columbus.

BILLY WALKER

"Well, we are in luck," exclaimed Billy Jr., as he and Stubby climbed the steps onto the track again, and were soon plodding along as before. They looked as though the were covered with frost, for wherever the water had dried it left their coats covered with salt.

"Gracious," exclaimed Stubby, "I am glad to see the end of this trolly is in view! Do stop, boys. How good it seems to see trees and green grass around a real home-like looking place with stables and outbuildings instead of one lone house on an alkali plain or a poor half-breed's dugout on the plains! It really seems like living once more to see the smoke arising from the chimneys and those outbuildings and barns make one think of the horses, cows, chickens and pigs that always go with farm life."

"You are right, Stubby," said Billy Jr. "I don't care for those fruit ranches out west. Give me farm life in the east, with mice to catch in the hay, milk to steal from the pails and chicken bones to pick at the kitchen door."

"And good pure, cold, water to drink," added Billy Jr. "It is strange how one suffers more from thirst than hunger when traveling."

"As soon as we get off this trolly, we must go up to one of those comfortable looking houses you see at the foot of the mountains that border this lake, make friends with the people and see if we can't get a good supper something to drink and a place to sleep. For myself, I can see I am as good as provided for already, for there is grass to eat, and there must be water somewhere near those houses. But it may be harder for you boys to get something to eat—your not liking grass and leaves. But you never failed yet, and I'm sure you won't now."

"Hark! What is that I hear coming behind us," said Stubby.

"Another train, I'll bet," replied Billy Jr. "But who cares? We are now so near the shore that if we could not make it on the trolly we could swim, and Burton could cling to one of the cross-beams, as he did before."

But this time, whether Burton was more careless or not, no one knows, but just when the train was over him, it jolted so he lost his hold and fell into the water and was swept away from the trolly before he could regain his hold and climb back again.

Billy, happening to see him fall, swam to his rescue and insisted upon Burton clinging to his back and holding on while he swam to shore.

"My!" exclaimed Stubby, "but I would like to have your picture, Burton, you look so disconsolate, with your ears and tail drooping down and the water running off your back in streams."

I guess any one would like a picture of the chums.

Billy Jr. came wading out of the water with a cat on his back, and a little stubby-tailed dog following, and it was this very sight that made the owner of one of the farm houses that had seen take a fancy to them, and take them at home with him where he gave them a good supper as he speculated on how the three strange companions came to be traveling together.

(Thus the chums are again cared for by kind people.)

A WIFE IN THE MAKING

BY PHYLLIS PHILLIPS

THE SILVER LINING

Late the next afternoon Ned returned, bringing with him a tender smile and a huge bouquet of flowers for his Cherry. That young lady, very dressy as to hair and smiling as to lips, met him in the hallway and hugged him as though her very life depended on her so doing. Stepped off a few paces, then threw her arms round him again.

"Lady-bird, it sure is wonderful to see you, darling," he said as he drew her close and mumbled in her hair in a way that she loved best. Then again, "Lady-bird, tell me you are glad to see me."

Blushing and overjoyed, Cherry assured him of this fact. Then with a happy light in her eyes, she led him up to their room and took his bag from him in a proprietary way that caused Ned to grin sheepishly. She put his clothes away and then danced back to where he stood and hugged him all over again.

"Can't believe that you're actually there before my silly eyes, Neddy boy," she explained, teapostuously. "And your Cherry missed you something terrible. Next time please take her with you, won't you, dear?" she questioned, prettily pointing her red lips at him in a distracting manner.

Ned agreed to do so on the spot, and after much more hugging the two descended into the garden together.

"Lady-bird," said Ned, suddenly, "let's be wild people, you and I, and run away for the evening? How regime in Mexico, but in all the information given out at the State Department it is emphasized that the United States is not disposed to quibble over the form of Mexico's assurances with respect to property titles.

For example, if the Mexican courts should render a decision saying the Mexican constitution does not constitute the titles to property held legally before 1917, this would be very gratifying to the American Government and the chief cause of friction would be removed and at the same time the Government here would expect to see all objection removed to including a clause in the treaty making property safe against retroactive laws of any kind.

The point that American citizens went to Mexico, acquired oil land under Mexican laws, secured valid titles and then because the Americans made money out of those lands, the Mexicans put a provision in their new Constitution practically taking away those lands from their owners. Our Government doesn't object to a Constitutional provision saying that any public lands in the future shall be withheld from foreigners, but it does feel that retroactive legislation shall be taboo.

Want It Made Permanent Policy

Secretary Hughes insists that it isn't a question of Oregon or an individual, but that the new policy applies to any future executive in Mexico. The truth is the United States is tired of making agreements with individual administrations in Mexico and finding them abrogated or interpreted according to the whim of the Mexican chiefs. On the other hand, the same objection has been urged to our own foreign policy by foreign governments who claim that when Republicans follow Democrats or vice versa, there are fundamental changes in handling foreign affairs. President Wilson, for instance, made a treaty with Europe and actually signed it, but the document has been repudiated by a succeeding administration.

Want to Know When Recognition Is In Effect

Incidentally this point is being raised by Europeans here as having a vital bearing on their attitude toward Mexico. When will recognition be extended by the United States, they ask, will it be when the treaty is signed by the executives of the Mexico City and Washington governments or when the Mexican Senate by two-thirds vote and the United States Senate by two-thirds vote shall have ratified the pact? At the Department of State it was indicated that when the treaty was signed by the executive branches of the two governments, it would be sufficient at any rate to start the processes of recognition. This is all very well for the United States, but the Europeans are not making any treaty with Mexico and they must therefore determine when it would be proper to recognize the Mexican Government. They must take their cue from the United States and some of the Europeans here wonder whether they shall take a chance again and look upon the signing of a treaty by an American executive as conclusive or whether they had better wait until after ratification is actually accomplished.

The Mexican question has many fine points like these and it takes a jurist of the ability of Charles Evans Hughes to work them out.

18 Perished In District

PUEBLO, COLO., June 8.—(By the Associated Press).—Eighteen persons are known to have been killed in the flood in the Lajunta district, according to Captain J. B. the paper specialty business in Cincinnati up to the time of the entrance of the United States in the world war.

He was chosen as colonel of the old first regiment, Ohio National Guard, and when the war broke out he recruited that regiment to war strength and it was mustered into federal service as the one hundred and forty-seventh regiment, thirty-seventh division of United States army.

As its head he went overseas and took a prominent part in the battles of St. Mihiel, the Argonne and later in Belgium.

For personal bravery on the field of battle he was decorated by the French and Belgian governments and was honored by the United States government. Colonel Galbraith was about 50 years old. He leaves a widow and two children, a boy, about to enter college, and a girl of ten years.

Colonel Galbraith at one time was president of the Business Men's Club of Cincinnati. He was slated for international president of Rotary Clubs at the election at Atlantic City last summer, but declined the honor.

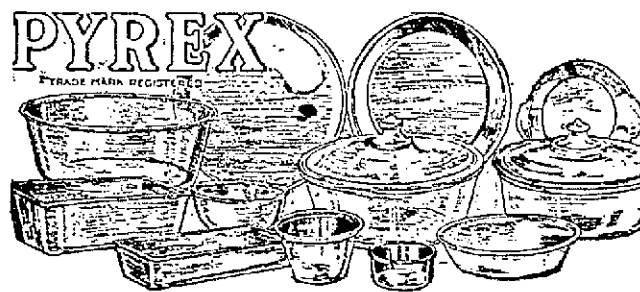

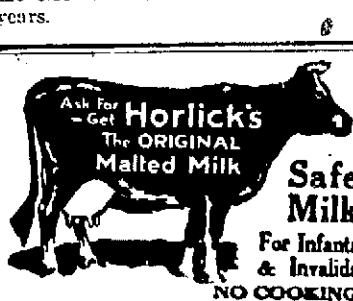

Colonel F. W. Galbraith, Jr., was elected national commander of the American Legion on September 20, last. During the war he served in command of the First Ohio National Guard at Camp Sherman, Chillicothe. Subsequently he was transferred to the 147th Infantry and embarked for overseas in June, 1918. By leading his regiment through the lines of the Germans under fire he won the title of "the fighting colonel of the fighting first."

As head of the American Legion he has been active in behalf of the organization in urging legislation favorable to ex-service men. His addresses have been marked with forceful utterances against alleged mistreatment of wounded soldiers, and in defense of the legion's plans for their relief.

In civilian life, Colonel Galbraith was president of the Western Paper Goods Company, of Cincinnati. He was a Republican, but never actively engaged in politics, and was never a candidate for public office. In Cincinnati, however, he was active in civic movements for more than twenty years.

PYREX Saves Fuel, Food and Labor

PYREX saves about one-half the fuel usually required, because it absorbs nearly all the oven heat and bakes food quickly.

PYREX saves food in many ways. Meats, vegetables, etc., when cooked in PYREX, retain their natural color and flavor to such a degree that economy may be practiced in buying the less expensive kind and yet have delicious food. Most foods usually cooked on top of the stove can be better prepared in the oven.

PYREX saves labor, it is always free from grease and odors, for nothing can penetrate the hard smooth surface. You can wash it as easily as your china and silver.

Every practical shape and size for baking is made in PYREX. It is ready for immediate use and never discolors, rusts, crazes, dents or chips.

State To Get 1.025 Mills Of Every Dollar

COLUMBUS, O., June 9.—Of every dollar returned for taxation this spring, the state will get 1.025 mills. State Auditor Tracy has notified county auditors what the state levy will be for next December and June. It is divided thus: Building funds for state universities, .125 of a mill; building fund for institutions under the control of the state board of administration, .25 of a mill; weak school districts, .35 of a mill, and state highway fund, .5 of a mill. The highway fund is the same as last year. The .15 of a mill for weak school districts is in the place of the present 1.8 of a mill for educational equalization purposes (the difference to be a county levy, instead of state). The universities and institutions building fund levies are new.

Besides the address there will be a chorus number by the Senior girls, piano selections, vocal numbers, and a closing song by the class.

Supt. Frank Appel will make a few remarks and the diplomas will be awarded by W. D. Altman, president of the Board of Education. Hector E. A. Powell will have the invocation and benediction.

Southern Representation At G. O. P. Convention Is Cut

WASHINGTON, June 9.—Election of John T. Adams, of Dubuque, Iowa, as chairman to succeed Postmaster General Will H. Hays, whose resignation was formally announced, and adoption of a new basis of representation of national conventions ruling in a further cut of the delegates from the south, marked the meeting yesterday of the Republican National Committee.

Mr. Adams, who was vice chairman, was succeeded by Ralph E. Williams, of Portland, Oregon. Mrs. Leonard G. Woods, of Pittsburg, was elected second vice chairman, an office created by committee action in recognition of the women membership of the party.

The change in representation, based on the Republican vote in last election, reduces by 23 the number of delegates who were accredited from the southern states to the Chicago convention last June.

Under the new plan of apportionment, the next national convention will be made up of 1,037 delegates, 53 more than the last, unless there are great changes in the state votes of last fall upon which the calculation was made.

The old system allowed for one delegate from each congressional district but under the new plan, a district must have cast 2,500 Republican votes in the last preceding election before it may send a delegate to the convention. To date, two district delegates there must have been cast 10,000 Republican votes, or a Republican representative must have been elected to congress. Under the former plan 7,500 votes gave two delegates.

Provision is also made in the new plan for the seating of two additional delegates at large from each state carried at the last preceding election by the Republicans.

The plan was submitted by R. B. Howell, of Nebraska, for a subcommittee. Its presentation on the floor precipitated a bitter fight from the states affected.

The principal drive on the change was made by Henry Lincoln Johnson, a negro member from Georgia, and H. L. Kimmel, of Arkansas. The report, however, was approved by a vote of 35 to 12. As outlined by Mr. Howell Tennessee is no longer considered a part of the solid south and is given an increased representation of two delegates as a result of the last election when the state was carried by the Republican national ticket, and a Republican governor and five of the ten congressmen were elected.

The southern states, it was announced, are affected as follows under the new plan:

Arkansas, increased 1; Florida, increased 2; Georgia, reduced 7; Louisiana, reduced 3; Mississippi, reduced 8; South Carolina, reduced 7; Texas, reduced 2; Virginia, increased 1. The representation of North Carolina and Alabama remain the same.

Although Mr. Hays said when he quit the chair, that he could spare no further time to the committee, it drafted him as a member of the executive committee. The meeting adjourned last night.

Thousands and thousands of people, says Peterson of Buffalo, are learning every week that one 25 cent box of Peterson's Ointment will abolish eczema and banish piles, and the grateful letters I receive every day are worth more to me than money.

"I had eczema for many years on my head and could not get anything to stop the agony. I saw your ad and got one box and I owe you many thanks for the good it has done me. There isn't a blotch on my head now and I couldn't help but thank Peterson for the cure is great."

Miss Mary Hill, 420 Third Avenue, Pittsburg, Pa.

"I have had itching piles for 15 years and Peterson's is the only ointment that relieves me. Besides the piles seem to have gone." A. B. Ruger, 117 Washington Avenue, Racine, Wis.

Use Peterson's Ointment for old sores, salt rheum, chafing and all skin diseases. Druggists recommend it. Mail orders filled by Peterson Ointment Co., Inc., Buffalo, N. Y.

Leave For Convention

Among the local United Commercial Travelers and their wives who left for Dayton this morning to attend the Grand Council meeting of the U. C. T.'s were Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Rupert, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Doerr, Paul Stockham, F. A. Klingman, Wayne Watkins and A. J. Shattery. The meeting convenes today and comes to a close Saturday.

This is the second Grand Council session local Secretary J. D. Bridges and wife have missed in a number of years. They cannot make the trip this time on account of Mr. Bridges' illness.

CARDUI HELPED REGAIN STRENGTH

Alabama Lady Was Sick For Three Years, Suffering Pain, Nervous and Depressed—Read Her Own Story of Recovery.

Paint Rock, Ala.—Mrs. C. M. Stegall, of near here, recently related the following interesting account of her recovery: "I was in a weakened condition. I was sick three years in bed, suffering a great deal of pain, weak, nervous, depressed. I was so weak, I couldn't walk across the floor, just had to lay and my little ones do the work. I was almost dead. I tried everything I heard of, and a number of doctors. Still I didn't get any relief. I couldn't eat, and slept poorly. I believe if I hadn't heard of and taken Cardui I would have died. I bought six bottles, after a neighbor told me what it did for her."

"I began to eat and sleep, began to gain my strength and am now well and strong. I haven't had any trouble since. I sure can testify to the good that Cardui did me. I don't think there is a better tonic made and I believe it saved my life."

For over 40 years, thousands of women have used Cardui successfully, in the treatment of many womanly ailments.

If you suffer as these women did, take Cardui. It may help you, too. At all druggists. E 85

HINT OF STRIKE MADE AT RAILROAD WAGE HEARING

CHICAGO, June 9.—Giving warnings of the acceptance of wage reductions was in the hands of the rank and file of employees, railroad brotherhood chiefs today disclaimed responsibility if the men refused to accept a cut and a "stoppage of traffic" resulted. The strike suggestion was made by L. E. Sheppard, head of the Conductors and W. G. Lee, president of the Trainmen, in opening the big four board's hearing yesterday.

They were followed by W. S. Carter, president of the Firemen and Engineers, who developed a field of evidence in behalf of the engine service men. Almost disregarding the cost of living and outside wage arguments used heretofore, Mr. Carter presented voluminous data on the hazards of his men's employment and on what he called testimony before the railroad labor board's hearing yesterday.

A mortality investigation in 1913 was quoted by Mr. Carter to show that the death rate of firemen and engineers was 60 to 90 per cent above the average of all occupations. A United States census estimate in 1908 showed that 82.5 per cent of all railroad employees died from accidents.

Attended Funeral
JACKSON, June 9.—William B. Davis has come home from Dayton where he went to attend the funeral of his nephew, Elza Hanna. The latter was killed by being run over by a train. He was about fifty years old and his wife survives, but his six children are dead.

Broke Limb In Fall
JACKSON, June 9.—John Snyder met with a peculiar accident while plowing out on his farm at Liberty. He stumbled and in falling the two bones in his left leg were broken just above the ankle.

Masonic Reception Fine Affair

Congressman Fess Cautions Economy, But Believes The Future Is Bright

One of the most delightful occasions in the history of Aurora lodge, No. 48, F. & A. M. was the reception accorded Grand Master John R. Flouton and Grand Orator Bill T. Baker of the Grand Lodge of Ohio at the Temple, Wednesday evening. In addition to these two distinguished guests, Congressman Simon D. Fess of Yellow Springs, Ohio, was present and delivered the principal address of the evening. The attendance was upwards of 400 and every person present went home carrying with them food for reflection, not only from the stand point of Masonic duty, but from the viewpoint of citizenship as well. Masonry and exemplary citizenship are so interwoven as to be inseparable, but the Grand Master in his fifteen minute address impressed upon the membership their duties to the fraternity and recited some historical facts that were received with wonderment. His short address was delivered in a calm, forceful manner and much enjoyed throughout. He complimented the members upon their progressiveness, paid a pretty word of tribute to the city of Portsmouth and thanked the members for their gracious entertainment, and open-hearted hospitality.

Worshipful Master Roger Selby presided at the meeting, which was held in the well appointed lodge room and which was filled to overflowing. The distinguished visitors had arrived from Ironton earlier in the evening, where Grand Master Flouton had laid the cornerstone of the new high school building under the auspices of the Grand Lodge of Ohio. About 40 members of Calvary Commandery No. 13, Knights Templars, had acted as the honorary escort to the grand officers, and made a most impressive showing for the Sir Knights, led by Eminent Commander F. M. Bages, outnumbered the Ironton Sir Knights. The trip to Ironton had been made in a special traction car. On the return trip, the special was met at the Portsmouth hotel by Past Master W. B. Altman, District Lecturer H. M. Baker and John Iron, secretary of all Masonic bodies. The distinguished guests were brought to Portsmouth in autos and after being shown the pretty spots about the city, were taken to the Washington Hotel where dinner was served.

It was 8:30 o'clock, now time, when Worshipful Master Selby called to the meeting to order. The Czerwinski Trio rendered a selection and Watson Goddard favored the audience with two solos. Following another number by the Czerwinski Trio, the Grand Master was introduced and he stated above his address, which was purely along Masonic lines, was well received and attentively listened to.

Worshipful Master Selby made a very pleasing talk in his introduction of Congressman Fess, and in presenting him stated that he was a man with a big brain and a big heart, and a speaker of facts—a statesman of national reputation, earned because of devoted service. The congressman was in a good voice and his remarks were freighted with facts—nothing fanciful about it, although he stated that while the country was in a rather topsy-turvy condition from a financial viewpoint, that the present economic conditions would be safely bridged and prosperity only a matter of time. He gave an insight into the financial condition that amazed his hearers, and stated that it was "slow bells"—that economy was the watchword and that President Harding had sent that word

Interviewed at the Washington hotel Wednesday evening, just before leaving for the reception given in honor of Grand Master John R. Flouton and Grand Orator Bill T. Baker, both of Dayton, at the Masonic Temple last evening, Congressman Simon D. Fess, of Yellow Springs, Ohio, predicted that industrial conditions were improving, but he advocated rigid economy in the conduct of governmental affairs. He stated that it was absolutely necessary to make revision in the tax laws, laying particular stress upon the evils that had accumulated because of the excess profits tax that had driven billions of dollars to hiding places. He believes in America, in her citizenship, in her wonderful resources, in her banking system, but he stated that it was now necessary to proceed with extreme caution, in order to unload the tremendous and appalling governmental expenses incurred as the result of the terrible war. He stated that emergency legislation might be necessary during the war, but that such legislation, although clamored for, would not relieve the present economic situation. "Emergency legislation," he said, "was the damnation of the present difficulties through which we are safely passing."

"First," the Congressman said, "all the elements of prosperity are with us. Agriculture is on our side, the main foundation of all prosperity. Last year the country produced the largest crop except two ever grown in this country. This year the prospect down the entire line. He gave statistics to prove that the expenses of the government at this time were six times what they were previous to the war, and that 68 per cent of the government expenses were wished on the people by the former administration in the successful prosecution of the war.

He advocated the revision of the tax laws, and especially advocated the modification of the excess profits tax, which, he said, had driven billions of dollars out of the industrial channels and forced it into the purchase of non-taxable securities. Previous to the war, the speaker said, there were $3,000,000,000 invested in non-taxable securities. This sum has been increased to $15,000,000,000—an appalling indictment of the excess profits tax. He stated that when this feature of the tax law was introduced it was received gladly by the law makers of the land, for it was to place a burden on the manufacturing profiteers of the land. But, he stated, it had been passed on down to the line through the actions of the manufacturer, jobber and retailer and paid at last by the common people. He believed, he said, that the excess profits tax was mainly responsible for the

for a large general crop is fine, it could not be brighter as one glances at the growing crops and reads reports from all sections of our land.

"Second, our transportation systems are getting better constantly. Manufacturing industries generally are moving in response to the great demand for improvement in transportation and construction work, such as housing and other needed development.

"Our banking system is in first class order and there exists a better spirit of co-operation between labor and capital. All these things are basic principles of prosperity. 'Yet, there are certain things we will have to do,' the versatile gentleman continued, 'first our tax burden is too high and our present war tax system is uneconomical. It will be necessary to repeal the excess profits tax and release capital to invest in productive industries. This must necessarily wait until the tariff legislation is completed. The House will report the tariff bill by the middle of next week and it will pass through that body by the middle of July when the Senate will take up its consideration. While the Senate is considering the measure the House will take up the tax matter.'

"The European situation is also improving, there is much evidence that it is growing better. The German indemnity has been fixed. All European countries are working better than heretofore. While this country cannot extend the countries abroad government credits, the banking institutions are assisting in our exports. Europe high cost level of today. The congressman states that so long as that law was on the statute books it meant hesitancy on the part of the financial world to invest money in new industrial enterprises, and insisted it was the duty of congress to greatly modify the measure. At the same time, he said, it was the duty of the employees of the country to give an honest day's production for an honest day's wage.

He covered much in his speech that is quoted in an interview in these columns. But in addition said in reference to the finances of our country that conditions were extremely critical because of the large obligations wished on us by the World War. He said that development is being held back by the excess profits tax which also inflates prices on commodities that people have to have while farm products are not so governed and prices are low. He spoke of the government aid to roads and rivers and of the very necessary obligation of the people to see that these appropriations are spent wisely and properly and for such purposes that would be of the greatest benefit to the greatest number. He spoke of the unemployment in Great Britain where they have an unemployment tax and pension and that country is now paying seven millions per week for idleness.

needs raw material and if they can arrange to finance their purchases here through our financial concerns we get the business and our industries will continue to prosper. The same can be said of the South American business. We need it and can secure it by the aid of the above institutions.

"Our greatest difficulty is to find our way out of the confusion and expense of war. There is an immense debt upon us, and the fight is to reduce expenses, the only way that we can gain the light. When one takes into consideration that almost 68 percent of our burden is a hang-over from the war and a little over 25 percent for the upkeep and maintenance of the army and navy, leaving only about 7 percent as a field in which to cut expenses, the job appears great. I am not a small army and navy man, but expenses must necessarily be shaved down somewhere and it just has to be done in order to place the country on safe and solid financial ground. We cannot spend more than we make. The rule applies to nations as well as to individuals. But we will get out and our country will prosper as it always has prospered. The trouble is there is so much complexity to the situation and it is difficult to get out of the entanglement."

Congressman Fess had nothing to say about the political situation in the state. Congressman Fess departed for Washington last evening after the reception at the Masonic Temple. The House takes up the peace resolution today and his presence is absolutely necessary, he said.

He referred to the rich resources of our country, of its advanced civilization, of its people, workers and all, that a few adjustments would remove the employment matter and give to business a chance to get back into the proper pathway. He said it was a great task to lift the burdens of the war, there had been so much confusion in the eagerness to win as quickly as possible. These matters could not be straightened out in a day or a week, but that they would be straightened out, for the country has rich resources from which to draw and it only takes a cool head and wise counsel to regain what was lost and get started in the right way again.

The congressman was in fine voice and he made a great speech, not forgetting to speak of the great industrial section along the Ohio valley of which Portsmouth and environs are a prominent part. He complimented the local Masons for their cordial entertainment, spoke of the glories and resources of the state and predicted a progressive future for both city, state and nation for the industrial production had already begun to swing toward the dawn of a brighter period. The speech closed the program and the evening.

Punch was served by the ladies of the Eastern Star. The visitors here left for Ironton

COURT HOUSE

Wife Wants Divorce
Alice Berry, Third and Washington streets, charges neglect, cruelty and infidelity in her suit for divorce and alimony instituted Thursday in Common Pleas court against Roy Berry, who formerly conducted a restaurant at South Portsmouth.

In her petition filed through Attorney George W. Sheppard, the plaintiff says they were married July 26, 1920, and then complains that he has failed to support her, declaring that he abandoned her last March, besides, she alleges, he has beat and abused her, accused her of infidelity. Furthermore, she spends his time associating with other women for immoral purposes, she claims, and states that on one occasion a few months ago, she left him on account of his fondness for the company of female friends, but took him back on his promises to do better, which he failed to keep, she says.

Suit On Note
Suit to recover $100, alleged to be due on a promissory note was brought by Noah J. Lyons, suing through Attorney Harry Ball, in Common Pleas court Thursday against N. E. Lyons and Harriet Lyons. The note was made April 23, 1910.

Gallon Visitor
Attorney Frank Dickman, of Gallon, was in the city Thursday on legal business in connection with the estate of J. J. Martin, deceased.

Lien Suit Comprised
A settlement having been effected by the parties to the action of Edward Bremer against Harry W. Miller, as trustee, and others, which was brought some months ago to marshal liens for material and labor furnished in connection with the construction of a number of dwelling houses in Ontonagon addition, near Wheelersburg, the suit will be dismissed. It was announced by counsel Thursday when the case was called for trial by Judge Stephenson in Common Pleas court. The Portsmouth Construction company, now bankrupt, and The W. J. Cullum company, were among others interested in the suit.

Lyons Case Thrown Out
Dismissing both the petition of the plaintiff and the cross petition of the defendant at the close of the hearing in the divorce and alimony case of Zella Lyons against Robert Lyons in Common Pleas court, Wednesday Judge Stephenson made a finding that neither party had produced that degree of proof necessary to support their charges and warrant the court in giving the relief sought. The plaintiff, who is ill and was unable to appear in court, alleged neglect and cruelty and Lyons denied her charges and accused her of abandoning him without cause. The hearing disclosed that the plaintiff is suffering from tuberculosis in an advanced stage and in passing on the case Judge Stephenson reminded the defendant that she was as much his wife as ever and entitled to his support and protection, especially now that she is sick and unable to care for herself. Attorney A. H. Bannan for plaintiff and Attorney B. F. Kimble for Lyons.

Decree to Wife
Nora A. Hoover, West Ave., New Boston, was granted a decree by Judge Stephenson in Common Pleas court Thursday, divorcing her from John M. Hoover, Ninth and Chillicothe streets. They were married Nov. 13, 1917. The plaintiff told the court that Hoover failed to support her and abandoned her last December when she was sick. The decree was granted on the grounds of neglect and cruelty and the plaintiff was restored to her maiden name of Fyffe. Attorney A. R. Campbell appeared for the wife.

Sent to Jail
Mary Ratliff, 18, young woman, who was convicted in Municipal court Wednesday of a charge of loitering and sentenced to thirty days in jail by Judge Sprague, was transferred from the city prison to the county jail Thursday but the sentence in the case of her sister, Majda Willy was suspended and she was released from custody pending good behavior.

Wife Given Divorce
On the grounds of neglect Helen Lowther, 1718 Gallia street, was divorced from Raymond Lowther by Judge Stephenson in Common Pleas court Thursday. They were married Dec. 7, 1917, and the plaintiff testified that Lowther refused to support her and deserted her last December. When last heard from the defendant was living at Parkersburg, W. Va. Attorney J. T. Middlethwait represented the plaintiff.

Allowed Temporary Alimony
Arthur Moritz Long Run dairyman, was ordered by Judge Stephenson at a hearing in Common Pleas court Thursday on an application for temporary alimony, to pay his wife, Blanch Moritz, the sum of $10. a week pending the final hearing of her suit for divorce and alimony. The wife was also given custody of their four children and decreed the right to occupy the home at Long Run. Attorney Miller and Searl for the wife.

Russell Files Answer
For answer to the divorce and alimony action of Cora Russell, who conducts a restaurant at 411 Second street, Lee Russell, 615 Second street, through Attorneys Blair and Blair and W. L. Hostetter denies her charges and asks that her petition be dismissed.

HADN'T THE PEP TO GET UP AND DRESS, HE SAID
But the Old Reliable Builder, Nery-Worth, Soon Restored His Vigor
It is useless to give up hope and surrender to depressed feelings when Nery-Worth will build you up so quickly. Proof that it will do this is found in hundreds of statements from satisfied users, one of which, written by J. E. Wilson, West Poplar St., Sydney, Ohio, says: "I had nervous indigestion and couldn't sleep at night. I would wake up in the morning so tired and listless that I hardly had enough pep to get on my clothes. I have used Nery-Worth only two weeks, and I am greatly improved." At this time of year, many people feel depressed and feel the need of a tonic. If the reader feels that way, let him choose Nery-Worth for his tonic. If, after you have taken your first bottle, you are not pleased, your druggist is authorized to refund your money. Nery-Worth is sold and recommended by Fisher & Strickland-Advertisement.

Petitions Are Filed
The following candidates, at the August primaries certified their petition to the Election Board Thursday:
James F. Sheridan, council of New Boston, Republican.
Edward Burton, council, Fourth Ward, city, Republican.
James G. Hamer, council, Third Ward, Republican.

PROMINENT KNIGHT OF PYTHIAS SAYS REESE FORMULA R-11 IS "ACE" OF ALL REMEDIES

W. M. Smith, of Mingo Junction, Ohio, is so Rejoiced at Being Relieved He Wants All Sufferers To Know About R-11

Mr. W. H. Smith of Mingo Junction, Ohio, who is well known in that city as a man of sterling qualities, relates below the benefits derived from his use of The Reese Formula R-11. Mr. Smith is a member of the Mingo Junction Lodge of the Knights of Pythias and a man of such high standing in the community that his word must be considered.

Mr. Smith stated: "For four long years I have tried without success to get relief from stomach trouble. The best physicians in and around Mingo Junction failed to accomplish any thing. I would suffer from gas and bloating after eating with severe pains in my back and chest and around my kidneys. I would get dizzy and black spots would appear before my eyes."

"I tried the Reese Formula R-11 as I had heard having very little confidence in its ability to relieve me, but I want to say right now that before I had taken all of the first bottle I was completely relieved. I have just bought two more bottles and never intend to do without it in the future. It is the Ace of all medicines and I think the least I can do is to tell others of its wonderful merits. I know a great many will be skeptical as I myself was, but all they need do is try it and they will be as enthusiastic as I am. Reese Formula R-11 shouldn't be thought of as an ordinary medicine for it is in a class by itself."

Reese Formula R-11 knocks the "Spring Fever" higher'n a kite. Get bottle today from Stewart's Cut Rate Drug Store, 915 Gallia Street.

Why don't you forget about the many other efforts you have made to obtain relief and try The Reese Formula R-11 today. There is health and happiness in every bottle if you suffer from stomach, liver and kidney troubles in any of their various forms such as dizziness, indigestion, rheumatism, nervousness, sleeplessness, backache, urinary or female trouble, etc. Give your system a general spring cleaning, clean up your body the same as you do your home and see how much better you feel and how bright your life will seem. If you wish further information, write direct to our Medical Advice Medical Department, The Reese Formula Co., Huntington, W. Va.

At The Temple Tonight In "The Desert Man." Besides This Big Western Feature There Will Be A Century Comedy.

One of the best western photoplays ever offered Temple patrons is here tonight in the form of one of the best William S. Hart productions that was ever released. "The Desert Man" is the title of this Hart feature. It is one of Hart's real reel thrillers and you will be sure to say the same after you see it once. It will be here for tonight only. The added attraction will be one of those always funny and pleasing Century comedies.

HAROLD LLOYD

HIGH and DIZZY

A Comedy Special

Last Showing Tonight At The Eastland Theatre—Two Headline Attractions, Harry Carey in "The Freeze Out," Carey's Latest and Greatest Western Picture, and Harold Lloyd in "High and Dizzy." One of His Best Comedies.

PROGRAM
A—Overture.
B—Added headline attraction—Harold Lloyd in "High and Dizzy."
C—Thrills—A Kinetograph subject with music.
D—Universal presents Harry Carey in "The Freeze Out."
Headlight Whistle had a monopoly in the gambling business at Broken-Buckle, but a stranger arrived and proved an anti-trust law unto himself.
In a few weeks he had repaired Broken-Buckle—that is, as far as it could be repaired, and was building a rival gambling hall in partnership with the village drunkard.
That is the unique situation that gives "The Freeze Out," Harry Carey's latest Universal photodrama, a snappy start which will please playgoers who attend the closing performance at the Eastland theatre tonight.
"The Freeze Out" shows Harry Carey in a somewhat different mood. He uses armed diplomacy to accomplish his purpose. The result is a photodrama entirely unlike the usual type.
How Harry's decision to add to the iniquity of Broken-Buckle arouses the ire of a young and charming school teacher; how her scorn gives rise to a revolutionary idea in the single-track mind of the itinerant gambler, are incidents which makes "The Freeze Out" one of the most interesting film stories of the year.
As an added attraction the Eastland will also show Harold Lloyd in the comedy special "High and Dizzy." Rounds of merry laughter that rise as high as Pikes Peak and make you shake a dizzy shimmey.

MAY ALLISON

The MARRIAGE of WILLIAM ASHE

Starting Tomorrow, For Two Nights, With Matinee Saturday, At The Eastland Theatre, Metro Presents Mae Allison In "The Marriage of Wm. Ashe," A Brilliant Social Satire From Mrs. Humphrey Ward's Famous Novel. Added Feature, Joe Martin in "A Monkey Hero."—A Riot of Fun

A—Overture.
B—Joe Martin, The Monkey Comedian, in "A Monkey Hero."
C—The Eastland Pathé Review.
D—Metro Presents Mae Allison in "The Marriage of Wm. Ashe."
In what is described as the most dramatic role of her career, Mae Allison, the beautiful young Metro star, will come to the Eastland Theatre tomorrow in her latest Metro picture, "The Marriage of Wm. Ashe," the picture of Mrs. Humphrey Ward's celebrated novel.
This should surely constitute a treat for film fans, if all the advance reports on the picture are correct, for no one hath it that "The Marriage of Wm. Ashe" is not only Miss Allison's vehicle in a month of Sundays, but one of the best pictures of the year, far more when it comes to good old-fashioned entertainment spelled with a capital E.
Produced on a lavish scale by Metro, the picture carries Miss Allison, in the role of charming Kitty Bristol, through an exciting series of adventures which begin when she escapes from the convent in which she has been placed by her parents, goes to London and at length meets and marries William Ashe, who is secretary for Home Affairs in the British Cabinet.
Lady Kitty, as she is now called, does not permit matrimony to put an end to her adventures, however, for directly following her marriage to Ashe she meets a radical named Cliffe and through his influence publishes a satirical book on the political associations of her husband, which not only jeopardizes his career but leads to his aspicuous of improper conduct on his wife's part with the radical, Cliffe.
This belief is confirmed by his discovery of her in Cliffe's apartment, from which Lady Kitty flees to return to the convent, where she is found at last by her husband, who is brought to realize that her errors have been ones of folly rather than misconduct.

Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle in "The Life of the Party" A Paramount Picture

Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle in His Six Act Special Comedy is the Big Attraction at the Columbia for Three Days Starting Today.
"The Life of the Party," at the Columbia for three days starting today is just packed with merry doings. "Fatty" Arbuckle, making his debut as a star in full-length comedy drama, is "vamped" by a pretty siren, is stranded by a drunken driver when returning home from a party dressed in children's rompers and runs for mayor. The picture was adapted from Irvin S. Cobb's humorous novelettes that run in the Saturday Evening Post.
"Fatty" plays the role of a young lawyer, who, for the sake of a pretty girl, undertakes to bust the Milk Trust. His rival in love is a dishonest judge, who is secretly in league with the milk folks. The judge seeks all manner of means to "frame up" Roscoe, but is foiled in the end. And, of course, the rotund lawyer wins the girl.
"Fatty" has merited his promotion from two to five reels. There always was a certain human element in even the Arbuckle slapsticks that other products of the custard pie school lacked. Even in his most grotesque characterizations, Mr. Arbuckle has shown a keen insight into human nature and flashes of talent as a straight dramatic actor.
Without slowing up in the least his fun-making powers, "The Life of the Party" offers the heavyweight star an opportunity to broaden and develop. Viora Daniel is Mr. Arbuckle's leading woman and Julia Faye, Frank Campen, and Winifred Greenwood are also in the cast. Joseph Henabery directed and it is a Paramount picture.

SEE MY LAWYER

Christie Film Co. presents "See My Lawyer," Al Christie's Big Six Act Comedy, With T. Roy Barnes and the Original New York Cast. At The Exhibit Tonight.

The world's greatest authors and possessors of the most vivid imaginations are not the authors of history, or the men from whose pens came the six best sellers, but the fellow who writes the stock prospectus for the fly-by-night million dollar proposition, that pays enormous dividends, providing promises can be traded for cash.

At least that is the claim of T. Roy Barnes, the intangible Robertson-Gale star, who is appearing in "See My Lawyer," an R-C super-special under the direction of Al Christie, in which he plays the role of the embryo promoter, who, thinking he has the greatest of inventions, starts out to set the world afire, and drains the public of its hard-earned gold.

In the role of Robert Gardner, who finances a fluke rubber scheme for a flunkier inventor, T. Roy Barnes, is seen in the most eccentric and most humorous character of his career. Robert Gardner is an affable sort of a chap, head over heels in love and ambitious to be known as a leader and a momentary success so that when Trueman, the inventor, comes into the plot, he is welcomed with open arms by Gardner, who sees him as his long looked for opportunity.

New Boston Democrats to Have Strong Ticket

Frank Taylor and J. C. Harris will be the contestants for the Democratic nomination for mayor of New Boston. This was determined at a meeting of leaders and party workers held at the home of George Lauder, 4056 Rhodes avenue, Wednesday evening, when a municipal ticket was formulated.
Those endorsed for other places on the ticket included Charles Elam for marshal; George C. Lauder for clerk; Miller Daily for treasurer, and Frank Emmett, James Elliott, John Taylor and A. J. Fennin for councilmen.

COMMITTEE ON NEW CEMETERY IS AT WORK

The New Cemetery Committee of the Chamber of Commerce has been meeting regularly every Thursday afternoon for several months and during the last few weeks has visited prospective sites and with the exception of two which the Committee expects to look over Thursday afternoon they have about exhausted possible locations for a cemetery. The Committee is about ready to make a choice of the most desirable sites but feel that before their final decision is made they should have some expert advice from men qualified by experience in this kind of work. The Committee has corresponded with a number of landscape architects and engineers handling this sort of work and have decided that it would be a wise thing to do to ask a landscape architect from Wiltoughby, O., to come here and inspect the sites.

SOCIETY

A happy family affair was held at Birchwood Heights, Wednesday, bringing together at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Stockham, a number of relatives who welcomed Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Brown and daughter, Miss Katherine, of La Nese, Texas, here for an extended visit. The dinner, which was planned to be served on the delightful lawn, was served in the elegant sun-parlor, owing to the inclement weather. Covers were laid for Mr. J. D. Stockham and son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Bauer of South Webster; Mrs. Caroline Gilbert, of Second street; Mrs. S. R. Micklethwaite and son, Dr. Gilbert Micklethwaite, of Ninth street; Mr. George Zaker, of Clifford; Russell Stockham and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Stockham and children, Miss Vera Stockham, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Brown, Miss Katherine Brown and the host and hostess.

THE MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, June 9.—Stocks of every description were severely depressed at the opening of today's session. The further collapse of foreign exchange, which forced London quotations under $3.70, was one of the disturbing factors. The proposed heavy export tax on Mexican oils was another unfavorable development. With in the first few minutes of the active trading, Mexican Petroleum registered a decline of four points and Pan-American Petroleum lost 6 points. Other oils as well as steels, equipments motors and specialties were materially lower. U. S. Steel fell nearly one point to 77½, a new low quotation for the year.

The market continued to sag during the morning. Oils and steels bore the brunt of the decline, many of those issues establishing new low records for the year. Equipments, shippings, copiers, rubbers, chemicals and tobaccos were swept into the selling movement. The weakness of numerous unclassified specialties denoted renewed liquidation of speculation accounts. Rails were comparatively steady, although a few of the high grade issues

Chicago Grain And Provisions

CHICAGO, June 9.—Wheat took a decided upward swing in value today as a result of the bullish aspect of the government crop report. Opening prices which varied from 1½c to 3½c higher, with July 1½c to 1.35½c and September 1.15½c to 1.10c, were followed by a material setback. Corn lacked support. After opening unchanged to ½c higher, including July at 63½c to 63½c, the market underwent a general decline. The close was unsettled ¼c to 3c net higher with July 1.14½c to 1.15c and September 1.17½c to 1.17½c. Oats were depressed by the bearish showing of the government report as to oats. Prices started ½c off to ¼c up with July 35½c to 35½c, and then sagged all around to well below yesterday's finish. Lower quotations on hogs acted as a weight on provisions. The close was nervous, 4½¢ to ¾¢ @ 1c decline, with July 62½c to 62½c @ ¾c.

Claims Settled; Suits Dismissed.

The defendant having settled the claims in full, the suits of The Times Publishing company and The Portsmouth Publishing company against Carl Windel, doing business as the Windel Motor Car company, Sixth street, which were brought recently in Municipal court, have been dismissed.

The suits were brought on accounts of $13,354 and $76.83 for publishing advertisements for the defendant at his instance and request covering a period of six months from December, 1920, to June, 1921. The actions were filed through Attorney Miller & Searl.

ST. MARY'S SCHOOL HAS HIGH RATING

For many years the St. Mary's school here has conducted a two year high school and commercial course. Two years ago the third and a year ago the fourth year studies were added together with such equipment to the library, scientific and general furnishings as to make it conform in every way to the regulations and requirements of a first class high school. Moreover, before the first fourth year purple went from his portraits the school was thoroughly reviewed by the state inspector and reported to the department of education as having especially fine school spirit, excellent teaching and sufficient equipment. As a result the school was given first class rating. Its graduates are admitted to the state university and also to any university in the Northwestern Association of colleges without examination.

Walk-Over

Take Any Group of Men

No matter who or where they are, the Walk-Over store can fit each man's feet with exactly the right shape of shoe. There is a Walk-Over made for you.

AN OXFORD FOR MEN WHO MUST WEAR A COMFORT SHOE

This Oxford is the best of its kind that has ever been made. It is a combination last, which means that the toe construction is wide while the heel is narrow. The narrow heel is wide at the bottom and narrow at the top near the ankle. So accurate is the fitting that this Oxford could be worn without lacing and the heel would not slip out. The fit around the instep is close and gives a bracing effect. In all leathers with or without rubber heels.

Where Walk-Overs Make Good

Any Walk-Over, put to a style test, shows up in great shape. You go to a Walk-Over store and you are looking for a shoe with comfort and good looks—the most for your money. And the Walk-Over store delivers all that to you with a liberal hand.

Will Inspect Canal Systems

Allan N. Jordan, representing the Portsmouth Chamber of Commerce is expected home this evening from Columbus where he went to meet the special legislative committee appointed to visit and inspect the canal systems of the state. The object is to view places which are said to be in need of repairs, investigate complaints of damage done by overflows from the old canals and to recommend a general canal policy for the state. This committee of legislators includes Representatives George Mathews, Chester Hines and Edgington and Senators Kryder, Miller and Atwood. The inspection trip was to have started today but changes were made in the schedule and the trip will not be made probably until next week. Harry Hyatt, city forester of Cleveland is to accompany the party. The canal from Portsmouth to Columbus will be the first to be inspected. Later the committee will inspect the canal between Dresden and Cleveland and then the Miami and Erie canal. While on the visit in Portsmouth the committee will visit the proposed game preserve on the West Side. Chief A. C. Baxter of the state game department and his assistant J. W. Streiber will accompany the committee for the inspection of the game preserve of 10,000 acres.

 Friday, June 10—Solvay vs. Seby.
 Saturday, June 11—Steel Plant vs. Excelsior.

On a rain soaked field and before a crowd that chanced a ducking, the Excelsiors, leaders in the Industrial League race, won over the champions Solvay at the nineteenth street yard last evening by the score of 5 to 1, due largely to the effective pitching of Josephus Daniels Barber, who held his opponents to four hits and came within an ace of shutting them out.

Joe was careful as usual and crafty as always; fanning no less than 7 of the enemy and at times when a hit would have proven dangerous. With Joe pitching the kind of ball he displayed last evening, the leaders are going to be mighty hard to overtake. They now have a big lead in the race for Portsmouth and the team is so shot full of confidence and pepper that the Shoemakers are setting a clip that make opponents dizzy. "They will make their mistakes now and then as they did last evening, but they are coming through when called upon and that is what counts in a ball game."

Mr. Sisler, looked upon as one of the best right handers ever, turned out in front, toiled on the mound for the Solvays and it was not his fault that the Excelsiors ran up such a large score. The Solvays, usually reliable in a floundering sense, slipped on several chances, two errors in succession, paving the way for the four runs counted by the winners in the second inning. He was touched up for six hits and with clean fielding behind him would have held the leaders to one hit. He fanned five batters, and impressed the audience by his skill. He has a world of speed and completely disconcerted the statement that he was a wild man by walking only two men, though he did hit another. With clean support, the game would have been a real battle. Mr. Sisler took things easy and was not at all rattled because of the poor support accorded him. He was out there doing his best regardless of the lack of help he received and won the respect of the opposition by his nerve.

Due to the fact the Excelsiors gained a four run lead in the second inning, the life of the game was then a question of playing out the seven innings. Give Joe Barber a four run lead and he will hold it or die in the attempt. Captain Shultz got two of the four hits off Barber, one a scratch, being annexed by Catecher Artis, while Pitcher Sisler with the only run the Solvays made. The three batters who one Blanke was proud of, but it counted just the same as though he had knocked it a half mile.

The Excelsiors won the game in the second inning, rather the Champions lost it. McDaniels, first up, hit a roller to Maudger Shultz, who stopped it in his usual artistic style, but pegged low to first. McDaniels going on to second. Whereupon Blake dropped a Valodis long fly, "Mack" going to third. McDaniels was blocked at the plate on Doherty's roller, but played like a shuttle on a machine until Valodis moved up to third and Doherty sneaked to second. Lowry was hit by a pitched ball. Whereupon Mr. Warnock doubled to right, shooting in on whole hand. He came over himself on a roller to left, Samson trying desperately for a shoe string catch. Schweinsberg walked, Banfield holding third. Barber sent a long fly to center for the third out.

The Excelsiors ran their string up to five runs by scoring one in the fifth. McDaniels shot a double to left. Valodis fanned, but Doherty slammed a double past third, McDaniels registering. Lowry and Warnock were tossed out by "Sap" Klitch. The Champions escaped a shutout in the seventh. Baumgarten batted for Artis and walked. Cole hit for Frizell and fanned. Sisler forced Baumgarten at second. Blake's high fly to middle field safe and took a bad hop. Sisler scoring and took a bad hop. Shultz tried hard, but his liver was snugged by Doherty. The score:

CHAMPIONSHIP BOUTS

Only a little more than two years were given Fitzsimmons in which to enjoy the glamour and gold that accompany a heavy-weight championship. The honor was knocked from his sandy shoulders by James J. Jeffries on June 9, 1889, at Coney Island.
Jeffries had graduated from a boiler-making establishment into the roped square with two rugged fists that pounded Fitzsimmons into submission in eleven rounds and which enabled the new champion to stick at the head of the fist procession for many years.
The challenger of Fitzsimmons came from California, and was expected to sail into the champion with the zest and abandon then considered a western attribute of westerners. But Jeffries moved cautiously in the ring until his foe was aroused, whereupon he would create a thunderbolt with one of his big fists.

The first of these titanic wallops was executed by the Californian in the second round. It landed upon Fitzsimmons' jaw and Fitzsimmons landed on the floor. He was up and doing in a jiffy, however, and continued his whirlwind attack. The Californian was the bigger man and accepted all the punishment that the champion could inflict.
Fitzsimmons became weary from his incessant though ineffective efforts and in the tenth round Jeffries knocked him to the floor two. In the next round the Californian landed a zipping drive over the champion's heart and followed it through with rights and lefts to the jaw. These blows dazed Fitzsimmons and Jeffries sent him down for the full count with a crushing right hand blow to the chin.

Ohio State Life vs. Retailers.
The Standard Supply was given a good scare by the Gilbert Grocery Company nine last night when the grocers came within three runs of a victory over the league leaders. What made it more real was the fact that the Standards had laid down in the fourth three men getting out on purpose in order to hurry along the game and feeling safe that the 14 to 6 score was good for the end of the game. The Gilbert gang did not quit and kept plugging away adding six more runs in the last two innings.

Potomac river. Sergeant Burgoy, a passenger in the machine, was injured.

Will Need Them

MANHASSET, N. Y., June 9.—Folks here who would like to view Georges
Carpenter going through his paces during his secret training sessions, but can't do so, expressed the opinion that the challenger is fooling the public.
They believe he has more up his sleeve than he is willing to let the world in general know about, and that his somewhat listless attitude when boxing for newspaper men is but a ruse to conceal his real powers.

While the French champion is not always listless before critics, he has thus far refused to effectively demonstrate just how he is going to conduct his offensive campaign when he enters the ring with Dempsey. Apparently that is only half the story, for from all indications Carpenter will continue to let the public wonder just how many tricks he brought in his little bag from Paris.

RECOGNIZES A CONDITION

CONGRESS has passed a bill, which allows inter-state telephone companies to consolidate.
In doing this the law-giving body departs in a directly opposite way from the policy of statutes, much in vogue of late years, doing all possible to oppose and prevent monopolies.
The departure, however, is a sensible one. For lack of better designation a telephone may be described as a natural monopoly. Where two are operating in the same territory, the public is not as well served, but finds itself the victim of confusion worse confounded. For, if a telephone be a natural monopoly it is either a natural, or an invisible nuisance.
It is a wonderful invention, nowadays it has become indispensable necessary, but it is much like the gasoline engine. It has inherent defects that science hasn't been able to successfully cope with and since its invention, while it may have undergone considerable improvement, it has reached no marked degree of perfection, or even of reliability has compared with its early days of installation.
This assertion will be vigorously denied, but the all sufficient proof of its correctness is that there is no town that ever boasted of the inefficiency of its telephone, while every town swears, yes, it's a shame to say it, swears it has got the worst.

STEADY, AIM, FIRE

BERNARD BARUCH, a New York financier, who without money and without price, rendered untiring and most valuable service to the government, during the war, was made the object of a peculiarly indecent attack upon the honor and integrity of that service, by a congressman at the time under the absolutely secure protection of his position.
Adverting to the matter, Mr. Baruch says if the charges are true he ought to be shot; but the congressman is a liar and he ought to be shot.
We agree unreservedly with Mr. Baruch, the congressman ought to be shot, as also a lot of defamers along with him. It would purify congress, by suppression, at least, and do the country a vast amount of good.
Congress and a host of master minds are running around in circles, bemoaning the disorder and discontent in the country, and shrieking for this and that wild and weird antidote. Nine-tenths of the responsibility for present conditions lie with him. They bred it by violent and mendacious criticism upon quite every public official. They had no regard for public honor, or public safety; they sowed the wind and now they are reaping the whirlwind.
Their crime back to them is something like retribution, when a private citizen of such reliability and repute as Bernard Baruch feels compelled to apply to a set of congressmen the short and ugly word-liars all, and every man, woman and child reads it and gloats over it.

THE Hamilton board of commissioners has ordered the removal of all advertising signs from the highways.
This is a drastic remedy for an ill that is not serious in all its aspects. There is some sort of an organization that seeks the removal of board postings from the roads on the ground that they mar the scenery. Perhaps, they do to some extent, but not to a degree that is exasperating to the ordinary run of folks.
The evil in these signs is that the huge ones are ordinarily placed at some short curve in the road, where they impede the view, adding to the innumerable hazards of traffic that have come with the advent of the automobile.
To eradicate them entirely is strictly according to the American fashion of trying to reform everything by some sweeping statute. It is reasonable and prudent to see that no obstruction that adds to the perils of traffic shall be allowed, but to attempt to destroy a business and use legitimate in their general character is an entirely different matter and not so clearly justified.

CONSIDERING THE START

THE list of building permits, for the first five months of the year, published in The Times of a recent date, would make a most impressive showing of growth, if they were those for most other towns. As it is they serve merely to show that notwithstanding the hard times, Portsmouth's growth is not at a standstill by any means.
Most of the building is, in a way, the stress of necessity. Portsmouth is overcrowded with people, in comparison to the number of her dwellings, and to a regrettable extent there are bad housing conditions. She needs many more homes to accommodate those who would come here, if they could find suitable abiding places and she also needs many more for the proper accommodation of an excess population to ill quartered either for their comfort, or the general health.
With a return of prosperity there is no question that she will start upon one of the greatest building expansions in her history and for years her record in this line has been rather unusual. Yes, even now such is the demand that only the extremely high cost of everything restrains construction from becoming much more active, as demands at the building associations were never more numerous, but many are not being conceded because loans asked are felt to be more than it is prudent to grant under present general conditions.

The rapidity with which the installment date for the income tax gets here is what helps to make it a short life.

AUTO S COLLIDE ON GALLIA STREET

A collision between the automobiles of Frank Schlegel and John Lee, which occurred at the intersection of Gallia and O'Brien streets Thursday afternoon explained their appearance in Municipal court Thursday to meet charges of reckless driving.
Both denied guilt and, placed the blame for the accident on the other and after partially hearing the case Judge Sprague continued it until Saturday morning for further evidence. The Schlegel machine was considerably damaged in the crash.

GRADUATE STRICKEN WITH APPENDICITIS

James V. Weaver son of James Weaver of 1315 Eleventh street was stricken with appendicitis today noon and was removed to Hempstead hospital in DuCher's ambulance. He was operated upon this afternoon.
He was one of the graduates of the Commercial course of P. H. S. and was expected to be with the class when they receive their diplomas tonight.

NEWS OF P LAY NIGHTS

There are many proofs that Scioto county is one of the liveliest and most progressive counties in Ohio, one of those proofs is the "Pep" and insight demonstrated by the citizens all over the county at the local Cross play programs.
Haverhill Methodist church could not have held many more people than were present Tuesday and there were many on the lawn. The audience enjoyed the entire program, including readings by Miss Helen Hopkins, impersonations in dialect by C. G. Bennett, vocal numbers with flute accompaniment by Misses Beatrice and Winnie Stewart, and the Community Sing. After the musical part of the evening was over the majority of those present adjourned to the church lawn and entered into the group games. Haverhill already has made a request for another play night in July. Schedule for one week hence, is:
Friday, June 10, Franklin Furnace church—6:30.
Monday, June 13, Otway school—6:30.
Wednesday, June 15, Scioto Furnace church—6:00.
Friday, June 17, Upper Bear Creek school—6:30.

SCIOTOVILLE AND WHEELERSBURG

The ice cream social of the Bureau Baptist church which was to be held this evening on the lawn of Mrs. J. L. Jorner, corner of Harding avenue and Short street, has been postponed until Tuesday evening on account of the bad weather.
Mrs. Thomas Kibben of New Boston spent this afternoon with her parents Mr. and Mrs. James Mosch of Main street.
Nelson Turner is in Oxford to attend the Miami commencement exercises.
Miss Ruth Newman attended the picnic at the Highland Avenue school in Portsmouth today.
Mrs. Arthur Smith is ill at her home on Eastern avenue.
R. B. Reid is in Oxford to attend the Miami University commencement exercises.
Miss Amelia Rase, who is ill, is somewhat better.
Mrs. W. E. Ranshaw of Mount street, Portsmouth, entertained the Pastime club Wednesday afternoon. The time was passed in needle work, social chat and Victrola music, after which refreshments were served to the following members: Mrs. J. C. Mackey and children, Charlotte and Anna Katherine, Mrs. Will Grob and daughter Irene, Mrs. Clarence Walter, Mrs. George Evans, Mrs. Floyd Sumson, Mrs. Philip Zoellner and son John, Mrs. B. F. Brightwell and son Richard, and Mrs. Horace Dewey, all of Wheelersburg. The members from Portsmouth were Mrs. Arthur Wilson, Mrs. Otto Apel and the hostess Mrs. W. E. Ranshaw. The absent members were: Mrs. John Gehlbauer, Mrs. George Preston, Mrs. Clarence Fritz, and Mrs. Howard Preston. The next meeting will be an all day picnic at the summer home of Mrs. Floyd Sumson.
Mr. and Mrs. Horace Dewey and son Horace Wm. are visiting her sister, Mrs. Otto Apel of Portsmouth.
Mrs. Will Ranshaw is the guest today of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. Mackey.
Mrs. H. C. McCormick, Sr., is ill at her home.
Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Pollard and son John and Mrs. John Pollard and daughter Loren of Pine Creek, were visitors in Portsmouth today.

City Briefs

A Mitchell touring car driven by Jacob Moore, an employee of Windel Motor Car Company was badly damaged when it collided with a street car at Ninth and Gay streets late Wednesday afternoon. The driver was not hurt. The machine had just been overhauled.
The Jackson band will give a concert in the Black Fork opera house Friday evening. The band is one of the best in Southern Ohio.
Adolph Hirth's Racine skiff, which was stolen near his Haverhill farm ten days ago, was recovered on Tugart by Russell, son of Policeman George Harding. He received a reward.
Senator C. K. Patterson of Diketon was a business visitor to Portsmouth Wednesday.
A Ford machine driven by C. P. Ward of 617 1/2 Chillicothe was involved in an accident when it collided with another machine at Gallia and Center street, New Boston.
W. J. Jenks, general manager of the N. & W. passed through the city yesterday on his way to Rome, Ohio.
Among those who have filed their certificates of candidacy in the over-the-river judicial district, composed of the counties of Boyd Lewis and Greenup, is that of Judge William C. Halbert, of Vanceburg. Judge Halbert is completing his second term as judge having made a fine record on the bench. It is understood in party circles that he will not have opposition.
In the senatorial district, composed of Greenup, Lewis, Carter and Elliot, W. A. Conn and Dr. H. T. Morris, of Greenup, and Eamonn Labor, of Carter county, have filed for state senator. Dr. Morris is the present senator of the old district and Mr. Labor is former representative from the counties of Logan and Mingo. The entrance of Conn, who is a former Elliot constituent with a large family connection, is said to have very much mixed up the race.
The Scioto County Board of School Examiners met today at the office of the County Superintendent to grade papers and pass on the returns of the teachers' examination held May 6. The Board of School Examiners consists of the following: L. N. Harpers, Lucasville, president; Supt. F. W. Lott, Lucasville, vice president and County Supt. E. O. McCowen, clerk.
As a result of the examination the following certificates were issued: On Normal training, Clara Davis, 1 year; renewals on Normal training: Nell Smith, 1 year; Berda Hancey 1 year; Goldie Neff 1 year; Ruth Groh 1 year; Stella McDermott, 1 year; Sarah Kuhn 3 years. Renewals by examination: Laura McDermott 3 years; Nina Smith 4 years; Ruby Moser 2 years; Albert S. Bonney 2 years; R. B. McClesney 2 years.
Temporary to July examination: Lillian M. Chinn, Minnie Potts, Linnie Smith, Albert Cullum, Gilbert Haverne and John Kallenbach. The next teachers' examination will be held at Portsmouth High school building the first Saturday in July, 1921.

Certificates Are Granted

Smiling
When the weather suits you not Try smiling.
When your coffee isn't hot,
Try smiling.
When your neighbors don't do right,
When your relatives all fight,
Sure it's hard, but then you might
Try smiling.

Doesn't change the things, of course,
Just smiling.
But it cannot make them worse—
Just smiling.
And it seems to help your ease,
Brightens up the gloomy place,
Then it sort o'-rests your face—
Just smiling.

Over The Odds
Lady (at fruit stand)—Yes, but aren't these gooseberries rather dirty?
Merchant (sarcastically)—Dirty! Think a bloke can wash 'em and part their hair in the middle for fourpence a pound these 'ard times?—Buller (Sydney.)

So To Speak
"The dentist said all my teeth must be replaced."
"He said a mouthful."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Effervescent
Mrs. Proffiter (relating her experience)—Yes, my dear, and we saw a volcano. You know—one which overflows with lager.—London Mail.

That Boy!
"While, what in the world have you been doing? I told you to hurry right back and you've been gone two hours."
"Bill Smith gave me a mud turtle, ma, and I didn't like to carry it, so I made it walk home."

A Merry Party

A merry party was going on in a room at a large hotel, when the festivities were interrupted by a bellhop, who said: "Gentlemen, I have been sent to ask you to make less noise. The gentleman in the next room says he can't read."

"Can't read!" replied the host. "Go and tell him that he ought to be ashamed. Why, I could read when I was five years old."

Breaking The Solid Drouth

The Drunk—Good of private stock from mah 'ill of cellar. Whoopie! Home, James!
The Chauffeur—That wasn't your private stock, sir. I saw you buy it from a bootlegger. You're forgotten, sir.

The Drunk—Aw right. Hospital James!

The Drunk—And it was a strange bootlegger—one you didn't know.
The Drunk—Mergue, James, mergue!—Barrie Payne, in Nashville Tennessean.

Still Smiling

A boy in Kansas City was recently awarded $20,000 because an electric wire had deprived him of his smile.
The wire had caught him as he climbed a tree and destroyed the facial muscles that produce the smile.
He could still feel a smile, but could not express it to others. Twenty thousand dollars is very little to receive for such a handicap.
Man is the only animal who knows how to smile. And in spite of moving picture comedies and musical shows and industrial depressions, he continues to exercise this exclusive privilege.

Oh, Why and How? Please Tell Us

Where can a man buy a cup for his knees?
Can his eyes be called an academy because there are pupils there?
In the crown of his head what jewels are set?
Who travels the bridge of his nose?
Can he use, when shingling the roof, of his mouth?
The nails on the ends of his toes?
What does he raise from a slip of his tongue?
Who plays on the drums of his ears?
And who can tell the cut and the style?
Of the coat his stomach wears?
Can the crook of his elbow be sent to jail?
And if so, what did he do?
How does he sharpen his shoulder blades?
I'll be hanged if I know! Do you?
—A. M. Andrews.

Questions AND Answers

(Any reader can get the answer to any question by writing The Portsmouth Daily Times Information Bureau, Frederic F. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C. This offer applies strictly to information. The Bureau cannot give advice on legal, medical and financial matters. It does not attempt to settle domestic troubles, nor to undertake exhaustive research on any subject. Write your question plainly and briefly. Give full name and address and enclose two cents in stamps for return postage. All replies are sent direct to the inquirer.)

Q. How many children have the different Members of the President's Cabinet?—G. A. R.

A. Secretary Hughes (State) has one son and two daughters; Secretary Mellon (Treasury) has one son and one daughter; Secretary Weeks (War) has one son and one daughter; Attorney General Daugherty, one son and one daughter; Postmaster General Hays has one son; Secretary Denby (Navy) has a son and a daughter; Secretary Fall (Interior) has two daughters; Secretary Wallace (Agriculture) three sons, three daughters; Secretary Hoover (Commerce) two sons; and Secretary Davis (Labor) one son and one daughter.

Q. Can a German officer come into the United States?—L. L. A.

A. The State Department says that the American Commissioner in Berlin does not have the power to grant a visa to a passport issued such an officer by Germany. Such a matter would be referred to headquarters in America and each individual case investigated.

Q. Will sweetened milk keep as long as plain milk?—A. G.

A. The Department of Agriculture says that sweetened milk will keep longer than unsweetened milk.

Q. Where is the original painting, "Spirit of '76"?—S. A. M.

A. The original of the well known painting hangs in Abbot Hall, Marblehead, Massachusetts.

Q. Is it true that birds are greater enemies of rats and mice than cats are? Do cats do more harm when allowed to roam than they do good by killing rodents?—M. M. H.

A. Birds are not greater enemies than cats of house mice and rats. It must be remembered, however, that cats certainly do more harm in destroying birds than good in reducing the number of rats and mice. Rats and mice are disposed of by rat-proofing buildings and food receptacles and using traps. The utility of the cat in destroying rats and mice has been overrated. Cats, selected for their rat-killing propensities, are useful if kept in and around buildings, but the cat is destructive to game and to other valuable wild life if allowed to roam.

Q. Can you tell us the approximate number of retail stores in the United States?—C. F. E.

A. The United States Chamber of Commerce says there are 551,000 retail stores in the United States.

Q. When did Chess originate?—T. W. K.

A. Chess is generally believed to have originated in India at least 2000 B. C. In its primitive form it was called Chaturanga, and seems to have spread eastward before it came West. Owing to the better preservation of records in China, that country has often been credited with its invention.

Q. When the Germans were shelling Paris with their big gun, did one force send the shell, or was there a second discharge?—R. P.

A. Judging from the descriptions of the 75-mile gun which bombarded Paris, it would seem that only one discharge was necessary for this shell to travel the required distance. The gun itself was about 50 calibers long and had a bore of 240 in. The shell weighed about 350 pounds, having a bursting charge of 33 pounds, placed in two compartments.

Don'ts For Lovers

Don't wed a plain girl—she will always be plain.
Don't wed a pretty girl—she will always be vain.
Don't wed a poor girl—you'll ever regret it.
Don't wed a rich girl—you'll never forget it.
Don't wed!

An Irrelevant Detail

The Judge (to prisoner)—When were you born? (No reply) Did you hear what I asked? When is your birthday?
Prisoner (sullenly)—Wot do you care? You ain't going to give me nothing.—Klods-Hans (Copenhagen).

Or Both

"Either a son or a daughter."—Yale Record.

New-York-Day-By-Day

BY O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, June 9.—Due to the nature of my humble calling and the locale of my activities I am privileged to mingle with many men and women who unlike myself have achieved greatness. As I approach the border line of scallity I am more and more impressed with simplicity of the truly great. Not long ago I attended a dinner, an informal affair, at which one of the leading novelists sat.

During the courses he engaged in a boyish scuffle with his host and removed his necktie. It was boyish, wholesome fun. The fun of the barber shop sidewalk in any village. At another time I saw one of the best actors on the American stage excuse himself and they found him in the kitchen learning a watch trick from a fat boy. In this city of flub-dubbery it is a relief to see folk human.

The other evening when the avenue had been emptied of its hordes I was walking with my wife and a long automobile—the kind where the chauffeur sits out in the rain—drew up beside us. Franks Larrimore, Broadway's newest star, was enjoying a little spin between dinner and her nightly performance.

She is a young girl in her teens with flaming tresses, somewhat like that of a Botticelli angel. Her eyes are clear and deep as violets and she was exquisite elegant and alive with light hearted health and girlish freshness. Broadway is kneeling at her feet and already her name was flaming in electric lights against the evening dusk.

And touched by the magic of her raymond, we sped northward to the park, stopping at the entrance to buy peanuts for the squirrels. Along the west drive we parked and Miss Larrimore was off scampering across the velvet lawn to feed the squirrels. The policeman who whistled his warning had no terrors and when he reached her he soon forgot his official dignity and was helping her coax a timid squirrel from the limb of a tree. He was Irish.

We bought hokey pokey ice cream and lollypops and played tag and after a time we left regretfully for the theatre where she must take up the task and become a cocktail drinker, cigarette smoking girl with the hand to the dressing room she made a hurried disguise and edged up to the ticket seller's cage where she laid down a dime—much to his disgust—for a front row seat. He didn't smile. He was Scotch.

Being natural is an absolute essential for greatness. Without it, no one may hope to be great.
Petro Glosli has given up his career in Harlem and sailed this week for Italy. Petro's profession was unique. He trained monkeys for organ grinders. He taught them how to climb up to windows, extend the cup and doff the little red hat. Some of the monkeys he merely rented. (Of late the organ grinders have fallen on evil days. The kiddies and their parents are more thrifty and they save their pennies for the movies.)

Perhaps a psycho analyst would help in this puzzle. S. J. Kaufman, who discovers New York every day for the Globe, was discussing the peculiar traits of people from different cities—"did you ever know anyone who came from those cities who was not a little bit different—well, kinda nutty?" And straining to say all recounted their acquaintances in these two cities and agreed that they were all just plain "nuts." And yet out in Chicago, they think anyone who came from New York is a hopeless imbecile. Any day I am looking for some Van Dyke guy with a tall dome to discover for a certainty that we are all crazy. But ain't we not fun?

the aristocrats of nebulous bodies. We have had several visits from famous comets in the last fifty years, some of them making spectacular displays in the heavens for our admiration and wonder.

Hard Times For Drinkers
The man who "must have a drink" is in a jam now—at home or abroad. Here, unless he has a cellar stocked several years ago, he is put to it to get good qualities in other whiskeys or wines, to say nothing of a host of embaressments in transportation and ruinous prices. Abroad beers, wines, liquors and cordials of all kinds have gone to unheard of prices, and Americans are politely robbed whenever they buy alcoholic drinks, as a sequel to prohibition in the United States and war in Europe. Indulgence now is an offense to the purse, a humiliation to the man who wants value received for his money, and entails clandestine negotiations which lower one's self-respect.

Rockefeller earned his first dollar raising and selling turkeys. We suspect more than that has been made selling one turkey, but that money was not earned. It makes little difference how the first dollar is earned. It makes a great difference if it is secured without having given value received for it. The country is overruled just now with men seeking in every possible way to get dollars without earning them.

"The songbirds are flitting to Europe," we note, each caught by the camera as they perch on the decks of the liners. Dear old Europe, how they love it! However, Chicago and New York bulk large in their lives, and on their bank accounts. They earn here and spend there, in their natural migrations.

Congressmen are planning a special tax on "meanness." Money. But when it puts the earnings of capital in that class it paralyzes thrift.

Hot Compresses Needed.
Here is a method of preparing hot compresses for the sick when moist heat is required, which it would be well for all housewives to know about. Take a double cooker, partially fill with water, and place over fire. Bring out pieces of wet flannel until as dry as possible, and place upper part of cooker. Place upper part in lower, and when the water boils the flannels are ready to apply. No wringing is necessary.

It is sweeping through a gigantic elliptical, as is the nature of comets, which stretches away 500 million miles from our sun. On June 13 it will be less than 100 million miles from it. Sometimes it becomes visible to the naked eye as it strolls in our vicinity, but usually not.

All the comets we have met, so to speak, are true though nebulous neighbors of ours because like the planets, they revolve around our sun. There are thousands of them, more than 600 having left their visiting cards, as it were, with us since the birth of Christ.

All the comets we have met, so to speak, are true though nebulous neighbors of ours because like the planets, they revolve around our sun. There are thousands of them, more than 600 having left their visiting cards, as it were, with us since the birth of Christ.

A comet has a head and a tail, the former sometimes a million miles in diameter, and the latter from 50 to 120 millions of miles long. Some comets sport several tails. They are

Hot Compresses Needed.
Here is a method of preparing hot compresses for the sick when moist heat is required, which it would be well for all housewives to know about. Take a double cooker, partially fill with water, and place over fire. Bring out pieces of wet flannel until as dry as possible, and place upper part of cooker. Place upper part in lower, and when the water boils the flannels are ready to apply. No wringing is necessary.

From Inconceivable Spaces
A celestial traveler is visiting our neighborhood. It is the Pons comet, that gives us a brief "howdydo" every five and a half years or so. It is sweeping through a gigantic elliptical, as is the nature of comets, which stretches away 500 million miles from our sun. On June 13 it will be less than 100 million miles from it. Sometimes it becomes visible to the naked eye as it strolls in our vicinity, but usually not.
